LEADING LIBERALS REFUSE TO SUPPORT LABOR GOVERNMENT

Sir John Simon and Party Whip Decline to Countenance Proposal of Lloyd George to Maintain MacDonald in Power, and Vote Against Decision of Caucus

Trades Union Bill Amendment May Bring Defeat to Ministry

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The whole question of the Government's future was raised today by revelations of the latest division in the ranks of the Liberal party. The two-day debate on the Conservative amendment to the Address, attacking the Government for failure to cope with unemployment, produced a division notable for the cross-voting of Liberals for and against the Government, although the official Liberal attitude was one of abstention from voting.

It came out today that Sir John Simon, the great Liberal lawyer, had written to Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal chief minister, several days ago, expressing his entire lack of confidence in the Government and notifying his leader that he would vote accordingly. Sir John told Lloyd George that his (Mr. Lloyd George's) well-meant efforts to aid the Government in doing something effective, had produced no result except to expose the Liberal to the reproach that they were keeping friendly to Labor merely to save their own skins.

Another development of the day was the resignation of Sir Robert Hutchison, Montrose, as chief whip of the Liberal party. Sir Robert said he felt obliged to resign because he had disobeyed a party decision and had voted against the Labor Government in last night's division. Sir Robert offered to carry on until a successor was appointed as chief whip.

LET LORDS DO IT

The repeal of the Trades Dispute Bill, contemplated by the Government, seems to be one of the points of divergence amongst the Liberals. The Lloyd Georgians, however, are confident the Lords themselves would veto the action of the Lower House and profess to be unlikely that the Simon-Hutchison opposition to the Government's attitude regarding the bill would be supported by more than eight or ten other Liberals of the fifty-nine in the House.

The Government bill would legalize the right to call a general strike and the imposition of a levy on trade unions for political purposes. The Government had pledged its faith with its trade unionist following to proceed with the measure.

Many political "experts" now believe a general election may come before it is generally anticipated; some say before the next budget, while some even predict a crisis before Christmas. But it must be remembered that the main body of the Liberals are not anxious to precipitate an election that would endanger their own seats and bring achievement of their own policy no nearer.

"The whole country is drifting into a terrible position," said Sir Robert Hutchison today, in explaining his resignation. "I have no confidence that the Government is able to cope with the situation. The mere fact that they intend to introduce a measure like the present one, is simply playing with the matter and fiddling about while the country demands an energetic programme."

Political gossip asserts Sir Robert intends to join the Conservatives.

COMMITTEE OF CABINET WILL CONVENE TODAY

Hon. W. A. McKenzie Named Chairman of Group to Supervise Plan

MOST MUNICIPALITIES HAVE OPENED WORKS

Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Labor, will act as chairman of the special committee of the Cabinet to deal with the Federal unemployment scheme, it was learned yesterday. The committee consists of Hon. W. A. McKenzie, chairman; Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Works, and Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary.

The first meeting of the group will be held today, for a general discussion of all phases of the operation of the plan in this province. To date sixty-five municipalities have reported under the plan, with approximately forty programmes already in operation. Work commenced. Besides this the Government has instituted a comprehensive scheme of emergency work in unorganised territory on its own account.

Four additional agreements ratifying emergency works in municipalities were signed by Premier Tolmie yesterday, as follows: Nelson, $2,316; Ladysmith, $1,800; Vanderhoof, $750, and Peachland, $600, where the amounts shown are for the face of the agreements, and therefore half of the cost of the work approved. Municipal programmes aggregating $1,290,481, as the total estimated cost of work to be carried out, have now been ratified by the Government, which will contribute one-quarter of this cost.

Many Perish When Explosion Wrecks Coal Mine in Ohio

Death Toll May Exceed 100—Officials of Company Killed When Touring Shaft With Friends—State Troops Patrol Property While Rescue Work Proceeds

Miners Succumb From Terrible Gas

MILLFIELD, O., Nov. 5.—About one hundred persons were killed by gas explosions and fire in the No. 6 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal Company here today. The disaster, which miners said was the worst in the history of mining in the Hocking Valley, came suddenly this afternoon with an explosion that sent smoke and flame shooting from the shaft and the airways. Among the dead were five officials of the mine, including the president and vice-president, who were on an inspection tour of the workings with several guests when the blast took its toll of life.

Andrew Ginn, state mine inspector, went entirely through the main shaft of the mine tonight and reported seeing bodies everywhere, but not a sign of life. Ginn said there was a remote possibility some of the trapped men may have taken refuge in tunnels leading to the main shaft and escaped death, but he considered this barely possible.

OFFICIALS ARE DEAD

The known dead include: W. E. Tytus, Columbus, president of the Sunday Creek Coal Company; P. A. Coen, Columbus, vice-president of the company; N. H. Upson, assistant of Tytus; M. E. Lancaster, Athens, chief engineer of the mine; Walter Hayden, Athens, mine superintendent; Joseph Bergen, Zanesville, superintendent of the Ohio Power Company; and Robert Parsons, Zanesville, superintendent of the Columbus Cement Company.

George Maurer, member of the Rescue Force, who also explored the shaft, told an Associated Press reporter that all of the men in the mine were apparently dead. He said he counted sixty-five bodies.

WAGED DESPERATE FIGHT

Positions of some of the bodies seen by Maurer showed that the victims had made desperate attempts to flee the terrible gases and reach fresh air. Ten men succumbed in the entrance of a ventilating shaft not far from the apparent centre of the explosion, while six others had fallen lifeless just outside the air shaft.

Many others lay scattered about the floor of the tunnel, some seemingly having dropped as they dashed for safety. Others apparently were killed or rendered helpless by the force of the explosion, Maurer said.

TROOPS ON PATROL DUTY

Rescue work was proceeding in an orderly manner tonight with troops of the Ohio National Guard doing patrol duty. Mothers, daughters, wives and sons milled about behind the soldiers' picket lines, anxiously peering toward the mine shaft where rescue parties went back and forth into the workings. Some moaned softly, others were silent. As each relay of relief workers came out, anxious eyes were strained, hoping against hope.

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 5.—Tea, coffee, tobacco, floor coverings, lace and millinery, fence wire and a variety of other commodities are all affected by increases in the customs duty announced by Hon. J. A. Lyons, Acting Treasurer, in his financial statement to the House of Representatives today.

The effect of the increased duties is to reduce the margin of British preference on all items in the schedule on which preference was given. The rates, which were formerly 20 per cent in the general tariff and 10 per cent in the preferential tariff are increased to 40 per cent general and 20 per cent preferential. New customs and excise duties, the duties come into operation tomorrow, part of a general plan to cut down the immense deficit which has been running at a face when the fiscal year is ended.

New taxation is expected to produce an additional $3,700,000 this year, while public economies are expected to save $2,100,000. A total benefit of $5,800,000 (roughly $34,000,000).

FINANCIAL PROPOSALS
The Government's financial proposals, Mr. Lyons stated, include: A super-tax of 7½ per cent on all incomes from property valued at more than $100.

A 15 per cent increase in tax on earned incomes of more than $500 per annum.
A super-tax of 10 to 15 per cent levied on the salaries of ministers of the Government, members of Parliament and civil servants.

AWAITING MORE DETAILS

Premier Delighted at Confidence Shown in Government

PREMIER Tolmie expressed his gratification at the outcome of the North Vancouver poll. "I am elated at the confidence expressed in the Government and in our handling of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway affairs," he said. "We will proceed carefully with the plans for the line with the purpose in view of obtaining the very best results for the people of British Columbia."

"I wish to thank the electors of North Vancouver for this splendid expression of their faith in the Government. I have every confidence that Mr. Loulet will make a good and useful member of the Legislature. I wish also to express my sincere thanks to all those who worked so splendidly for his return."

"I also wish to congratulate Mr. Bridgman, who throughout the campaign showed himself to be a true sportsman. It was not his fault that an endeavor was made to make a political issue out of the P.G.E.R., for his leader boasted before Mr. Bridgman's nomination of having done so through his so-called ultimatum in relation to the line."

Final Approval Given to $37,000,000 Unemployment Relief Throughout Canada

Sportsmanship Is Commended

E. H. BRIDGMAN
Liberal candidate for North Vancouver, who was yesterday elected to the Legislature in support of the Government.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Expenditures totaling more than $37,000,000 for public works and undertakings throughout the Dominion to relieve unemployment have been given final approval. Announcement to this effect was made tonight by Hon. Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor.

Work proposals put forward by various municipalities and provinces, which the Dominion Government has endorsed, aggregate approximately $14,000,000. A number of these undertakings are already under way. Construction and improvement programmes for the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, total $22,650,000. Expenditure through the grade crossing fund is authorized to the amount of $500,000.

DIFFERENT PROVINCES
Expenditures approved for the different provinces are as follows: Ontario, $4,000,000; British Columbia, $1,657,850; Saskatchewan, $1,292,000; New Brunswick, $406,300; Manitoba, $254,675; Prince Edward Island, $180,000; Nova Scotia, $109,100; Yukon, $5,000.

Canadian Pacific Railway Company, $1,514,000.

Canadian National Railways, approximately $11,139,650; grade crossing fund, $500,000; total, $37,128,842.

QUEBEC AND ALBERTA
Proposed works and undertakings for Quebec and Alberta, with estimated expenditures, are expected to be received from these provinces and their municipalities shortly, Senator Robertson declared.

Upon their receipt they will be placed before Cabinet Council for approval as has been done in the case of the other provinces. Other proposed expenditures in Ontario, British Columbia, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and the Yukon Territory will be submitted from time to time for Dominion approval, and announcement of these undertakings will follow.

VOICES APPRECIATION
"The Prime Minister's promise to the Canadian people that prompt action to relieve unemployment would follow the general election, in July last, has been implemented since Mr. Bennett took office on August 7," Senator Robertson declared. After a survey of accomplishments in this regard to date, the minister expressed warm appreciation because of the manner Continued on Page 2, Column 1

FOUR GIRLS ARE DEAD IN WRECK
High School Students Killed When Train and Auto Collide

TWO BOYS ARE INJURED
CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Nov. 5.—Their studies of the day completed, four high school girls stepped into an automobile in Charlottetown this afternoon and went to sudden death. Less than an hour after setting out to enjoy a ride in the country with two boy companions, the bodies of the four were taken from the wreckage of a motor car which lay in the path of the Seaside-Charlottetown train.

The accident occurred at Mount Edward Road crossing, three miles from the city to which they were returning. Scattered beside the track were the textbooks they had carried with them from the schoolroom.

The girls ranged in age from fourteen to sixteen years. Two young men were seriously injured.

The dead are: Isabel Bruce, daughter of Callum Bruce, M.P. of Avondale; Helen Higgins, Doris Adams and Eleanor Stewart, all of Charlottetown.

Jack Loulet Registers Smashing Victory in By-Election on Mainland

RIDING WAS FORMERLY LIBERAL STRONGHOLD

Provincial Railway Extension to Burrard Inlet Was Campaign Feature

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—Ald. Jack Loulet, Conservative, captured the traditionally Liberal stronghold of North Vancouver from Ald. E. H. Bridgman in a by-election today necessitated by the resignation of Hon. Ian Mackenzie, who accepted a portfolio in the Federal Government shortly before the defeat of the Mackenzie King Government. With only one small poll to report Alderman Loulet's majority was 412.

GOVERNMENT GAIN

The election of Alderman Loulet marks the first time that a Conservative has been elected for the riding. The Liberals were confident of retaining their hold on North Vancouver, especially after T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, had selected the issue of the contest. This is the first election that the Opposition leader has fought since he succeeded to the leadership of the provincial Liberals, and is the second success for the Tolmie Government. The previous by-election, for North Okanagan, was not contested by the Liberals.

Mr. Pattullo, before the nomination of his candidate, chose to make the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Whytecliff to Squamish the issue of the campaign. He did this by offering the seat to the Government on condition that a pledge was given to construct the line, which would cost between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. When Premier Tolmie estimated that he was not "bartering railway ties for ballots" and refused to commit his Government to any construction programme while negotiations were under way for the disposal of the road, Mr. Pattullo announced that the "fight was on."

Ald. E. H. Bridgman, former North Vancouver district representative, was selected to carry the Liberal standard against Ald. Loulet, who had previously been named by the Conservatives.

RAILWAY MAIN ISSUE

The P.G.E., as a result of Mr. Pattullo's political strategy, became the chief issue of the campaign, although Hon. Ian Mackenzie, G. G. McGeer, K.C., George Pearson, B.P.P., and other Liberal speakers assailed the Government on charges of extravagance. These were refuted by Premier Tolmie and members of his Cabinet.

By the victory the Conservative strength in the Legislature has been increased to twenty-four, the parties standing as follows: Conservatives, thirty-six; Liberals, eleven; Labor, eleven.

A third candidate in the contest lost his deposit. He was running as an Independent.

With the poll the Gamberlians to hear from the count at midnight stood:

Loulet, Conservative ..... 2,182
Bridgman, Liberal ..... 1,770
Whitman, Independent ..... 46

Republicans and Democrats Battling for Majorities in Senate and House

WET-DRY FIGHT IN NEAR FUTURE SEEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—In the closest Congressional election of years, Republicans and Democrats stood almost deadlocked in both the Senate and House today, with actual majorities hanging in final returns and recounts of Tuesday's balloting.

So close was the division of the parties of both branches that an independent movement in either would have the balance of power. Republicans stood to gain the 218 votes for a majority in the House by victory in three normality Republican districts still involved in close contests, but so close was the margin of votes for many of the members that recounts may upset first tabulations.

MAKES BID FOR SEAT
In the Senate the bid of Senator Schall, Republican, Minnesota, to overturn the early lead of his Democratic foe, Einar Holstad, gave the Republicans hope of retaining the forty-eight of the ninety-six seats.

However, in the two unsettled Senate contests the leads of the Democratic candidates gave the present opposition a prospect of getting the forty-eight seats, leaving forty-seven to the Republicans and one to the Farmer-Labor senator from Minnesota, Shipstead. Senator Robinson, Republican, was trailing M. M. Logan, Democrat, in Kentucky, the other Senate battle undecided.

Fate of Six Airmen And Two Planes in North Still Unknown

Eckmann Arrives at Prince Rupert Without Sighting Renahan—Two Machines in Liard District Find No Trace of Burke

NORTHERN British Columbia tonight still held fast the fates of two planes and six airmen, three of them missing since October 11, and the other three since early last week. Stormy weather and a dropping temperature at Atlin held to the ground planes seeking to learn what happened to Captain B. J. A. Burke, Vancouver pilot, and two companions, who have been missing in the Liard River district since October 11.

The search for Pilot Robin Renahan and two companions, thought to be lost between Prince Rupert and Butedale and Prince Rupert and the Northwestern Coast, however, continued today by sea and air. Renahan was on his way north to join in the search for Burke when he was lost himself.

NO TRACE OF RENAHAN
A fisheries cruiser from Prince Rupert continued to range down the coast looking for a trace of the missing plane. Numerous bays and inlets which dot that part of the coast.

The air search for Renahan was taken up by Pilot Ansel Eckmann of Seattle, who took off from Nanaimo today for Prince Rupert after having been fogbound at the Vancouver Island Coal City for a day. He arrived at the Northern city at 4:36 o'clock this afternoon.

A careful lookout was maintained between Butedale and Prince Rupert, but no trace of Renahan was noticed. Visibility, however, was poor.

The flyers will refuse and will continue the hunt south of here tomorrow.

A new development in the Renahan situation turned up today in a report from Prince Rupert. Eddie Clifton, of Hartley Bay, near Prince Rupert, said that on October 28, about 4 p.m., he saw a plane heading north along Grenville Channel, which is south of Prince Rupert, flying about fifty feet above the water. The visibility at the time was rather poor. In the light of this information, it is likely that a search of Grenville Channel region will be made both by the fisheries boat and Eckmann in his plane.

MANY VILLAGES ARE SUBMERGED BY FLOOD
Hundreds of Families Compelled to Evacuate Dwellings in Germany—Situation Serious

FRANKFURT—ON—ODER, Germany, Nov. 5.—Waters of the River Oder tonight stood within an inch of the height reached in 1854, the year remembered for its disastrous floods.

Soldiers, policemen and firemen and volunteer workers labored desperately to keep the river from overflowing the lower part of the city. The water has broken new breaches in dykes, however, and has extinguished fires under the boilers of many factories.

The town of Crossen, nearby, is largely under water and hundreds of families have been compelled to evacuate their dwellings. Many villages in the neighborhood have been submerged, the inhabitants scarcely succeeding in saving their lives.

ACTING REEVE PAYS VISIT TO WORKSHOPS

H. C. Oldfield, Saanich Executive, Impressed With Work of Disabled Vets

SUSTAINED SUPPORT WILL CONTINUE WORK

After visiting the Red Cross workshop yesterday afternoon and seeing the disabled veterans working on the many articles made there, H. C. Oldfield, acting Reeve of Saanich, was more than impressed with the skill of the workmen and the variety of goods manufactured. Following the visit, the acting reeve said:

"Having availed myself of the privilege extended by the Red Cross-Armistice Period committee to visit the Red Cross workshop, I was greatly impressed by the great extent and variety of the work done.

"Although familiar to some extent with the work done in the workshop, I think there are many of us in the city and district unaware of the many lines that have been added to the list of work done.

"Many of the lines, I am told, are replacing imported articles, and while the quality of the work is well known, the purpose behind it is not always realized. It gives an opportunity to many, who without it, would be at a very serious disadvantage. More support to this work will naturally increase the number of deserving men who could be employed, and sustained support is necessary to give continued work," concluded Mr. Oldfield.

WET-DRY BATTLE

Tuesday's election produced acclamations to the Senate wet group from Ohio, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and at least one dry gain from Iowa. Many prominent drys were returned to the Senate, too, and the big anti-prohibition majority is expected to be continued.

The preponderant prohibition majority in the House also was cut. But while the association against prohibition amendment was making big net gains in both Houses, the Anti-Saloon League pointed out that the wetts still were far below the necessary two-thirds majority to submit a repeal amendment to the states.

REBUTT TO HOOVER

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Official Ottawa is loath to express opinion on the effect of the result of the United States elections may have on international relations and problems. Ministers take the view that any official opinion to be expressed should be made by the Prime Minister, although they nearly all deprecate any statement on the indecisive result, but the decisive rebuff to President Hoover.

WHEN I WAS YOUNG

When I was young, I longed to be
A city street-car driver
Until ambition steeped in me
The urge to be a Diver.
Then a Sailor, then the veer
To Locomotive Engineer,
Followed swift, by yearnings, fistic,
Then the 'penchant' Journalistic,
And—to catechise, in brief—
Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief—
'Till, with rolling years, I find
All I've done is slip behind,
Which excuses my insane
Longing to be young, again.

EVANGELISM

Speaking during the morning session, Rev. C. K. Morse briefly outlined the work of evangelism. He first referred to the effect upon the individual, pointing out that Christ had preached His greatest messages into one pair of ears.

On the other hand, he said, the group of evangelists had been found to be wonderfully effective, and group leaders had magnificent opportunities.

"It is through service and sacrifice that this suffering world can be helped," said Mr. Morse. "If we would look for a concrete example of this, we may find it in the story of Christ."

WOMEN'S HOUR

The Women's Hour was presided over by Mrs. Spofford, in the absence of Mrs. Beveridge. During the hour an address was given by Miss Edith Mann, who spoke of her work in the island.

She spoke of the difficulty of mastering languages and customs before it was possible to enter upon any intelligent missionary activities. Religion was as natural a conversation topic in India as was the weather in Canada.

NEW EMPEROR GIVES COINS TO CHILDREN

ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, Nov. 5.—Emperor Haile Selassie today distributed silver coins among all children within his call.

Thousands of youngsters, both white and black, some of them half naked, ran eagerly toward the emperor when they learned that coins were to be passed out by the conquering lion of the tribe of Judah, the elect of God and the light of the world. Many prostrated themselves in the presence of the Emperor, who was crowned three days ago.

After the last boy had received his gift from the throne, the Emperor dropped the remainder of his silver into his golden coffer.

"BOCCACCIO" TO BE SUNG HERE

Victoria Operatic Society at Meeting Last Night Made Interesting Decision

JANUARY OPENS SEASON

Von Suppe's "Boccaccio," a merry and tuneful opera "full of innocent fun," is to open the recently-organized Victoria Operatic Society's season late in January. This was decided upon at the splendidly attended and very enthusiastic meeting held last night at the Princess Louise dining-room of the Empress Hotel, when organization was carried several steps further. A very important problem was given apparent solution when James McGrath, lessee of the Coliseum Theatre, and an enthusiastic member of the society, offered very favorable arrangements for the use of the well-known house for the three operas which it is intended to give this season.

COMMUNITY EFFORT

Mr. Davis, the president, outlined the objects of the society as being the formation of an operatic society which would be in the nature of a community effort, incorporating it was hoped, all the dramatic and operatic work in the city. He reminded his audience, which numbered more than one hundred people, that there were at the present time in Victoria several schools of drama and a number of excellent schools of singing. There should be no dearth of material, therefore, and their director and producer, Mrs. Turcynowicz, with her experience and skill in training people in stage deportment, would undoubtedly be able to make the undertaking very successful.

"BOCCACCIO"

The rumored production of "Boccaccio" has undoubtedly created much interest, one member reporting that he had gone to the library to ask for the "Decameron" only to find that after many years' neglect the several copies had just gone into circulation again. This opera, complete version of the celebrated collection of one hundred tales by Boccaccio, first published in 1353, incorporates some of the best-known characters in the original story, which purported to be related during ten days by several ladies and gentlemen who resorted to a villa outside Florence to escape the plague of 1348.

Gandhi was arrested on May 5 in Jalapur and has been held ever since under the law for the protection of the state.

Think Liberals of Ontario Will Drop Prohibition Policy

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—The Ottawa Evening Journal today says: "Ontario Liberals, who will attend the Ontario Liberal convention in Toronto next month, are predicting that the party's historic prohibition policy will be dropped, and that a resolution will be adopted endorsing the principle of the sale of liquor under government control."

TEN JAPANESE ARE KILLED IN BATTLE

Infantrymen slain in Most Severe Fight of Expedition Against Revolting Forces

TOKIO, Nov. 5.—Rengo News Agency dispatches from Muala, Central Formosa, today said ten Japanese infantrymen were killed, thirteen wounded and three were missing yesterday following the most severe battle of the expedition against revolting forces.

The engagement occurred in Bandal Valley, eight miles southeast of Muala, centre of disturbance, which has taken a toll of more than 100 Japanese lives at least eighty-six of them civilians.

The civilians, many of them women and children, were killed and beheaded when the savages raided Muala on October 27.

Dispatches today said the savages suffered heavy losses in the Bandal engagement. Although Bandal was described as "the enemy's last stronghold," the result of the battle was apparently inconclusive. Two companies of Japanese infantry were engaged.

TWO ARMISTICE SERVICES HERE

Ex-Service Men Will Parade
to Christ Church Cathedral
Sunday Afternoon

CENOTAPH ON TUESDAY

The twelfth anniversary of Armistice will be marked by fitting ceremonies when Victoria, in keeping with the rest of the Empire, will pay a tribute of respect to the memory of one million British dead.

Two services have been arranged. The first will be held in Christ Church Cathedral next Sunday, when veterans, headed by the band of the Coast Artillery Brigade, will march to the cathedral from the assembling point on Blanshard Street, opposite the Royal Theatre.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., will be in command, with Major F. T. Stern as adjutant and Sgt.-Major Frank Hatcher as marshal.

The parade will assemble at 2:30 and march off soon after that time. The service will commence at 3 o'clock. In the event of bad weather the parade will be canceled and veterans will proceed to the cathedral independently.

Order of service—Silent tribute; hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past"; invocation, Rev. George Pringle; scripture reading, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson; prayer, Dean of Columbia; address, Rev. O. L. Jull; hymn, "The Silent Tribute"; Last Post; benediction, Dean of Columbia; Reveille; national anthem. A silver collection will be taken up for the Armistice Period-Red Cross fund.

A cordial invitation to attend the service is extended to ministers of all denominations and to the general public.

A brief ceremony, conducted by Rev. F. C. Chapman, will be held at the Cenotaph on November 11, when the universal two minutes' silence will be observed. Commencing at 10:45 with the singing of "O Canada," the service will be as follows:

Prayer; reading of Pericles' tribute to fallen heroes; Last Post; two minutes' silence; placing of wreath by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor; hymn, "Abide With Me"; Reveille; national anthem. At the conclusion of the ceremony wreaths will be placed on the Cenotaph in the following order: Naval and military services, ex-service organizations, auxiliaries, I.O.E., and general public.

The Armistice Period committee is appealing to employers to allow ex-service men to absent themselves from their duties for sufficient time to take part in the ceremony.

"She was just a dupe in the hands of her brother-in-law," Judge Costarow stated today, in announcing the parole. Cecil Irving, the brother-in-law, was sentenced to fifteen years in prison and thirty lashes.

SHIPS' ARRIVAL TO BE COMMEMORATED

Members of Crews of H.M.C.S. Rainbow and H.M.C.S. Niobe to Meet

Reminiscences of the happy days spent aboard H.M.C.S. Rainbow and H.M.C.S. Niobe, warships which came to Esquimalt and Halifax harbors respectively, twenty years ago, will be recalled tomorrow night when members of the ships' company gather at a reunion dinner at the Naval Veterans Branch of the Canadian Legion, club rooms, Johnson and Broad Streets, at 8 o'clock.

Rainbow to Esquimalt, is among the invited guests. Angus McKeown, who in 1910 was a member of the City Council, and who represented Victoria at the welcoming ceremony, will also be at tomorrow night's function.

It is expected that upwards of thirty ex-naval men, members of H.M.C.S. Rainbow and H.M.C.S. Niobe, will attend the gathering which will bring the men together for the first time since the ships were taken out of the service.

ALL HOPE LOST FOR RECOVERY OF SURVEYORS

Three Men on Government
Duty Went to Their Deaths in Canoe

EXTENDED SEARCHING PROVES UNAVAILING

Search for the bodies of three members of the Government survey party, believed to have drowned when their canoe overturned in Kinbasket Lake, has been abandoned after an extensive search of the area in the vicinity of the tragedy. Inquiry into the loss of the party was held recently, followed by the inquest, where an open verdict was returned.

William Hallam, Jr., and Allan Game, both of Armstrong, and Gordon Nixon, of Invermere, were members of the ill-fated party which, with competent rivermen, had successfully negotiated difficult stretches of the Columbia River in two months preceding the tragedy, only to meet death when alone on a comparatively safe portion of their journey.

A sudden squall at Kinbasket Lake is believed to have been the cause of the fatality. The canoe, owned by the party, was found overturned, with scattered remnants of equipment caught under its gunwales, but no trace of the bodies could be discovered. Search for the bodies was continued for several weeks after the tragedy, but has now been abandoned officially.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED DURING U.S. ELECTION

Fatalities Occur in Congressional Polling in Kentucky—Two Wounded in Rows

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Four persons were killed and two were wounded during the Congressional election in the United States yesterday. All the dead were in Kentucky.

A double fatality occurred at Stinking Creek, Ky., where Boyd Bingham, forty, a Democratic magistrate, shot and killed Hampton Smith, forty-five, a farmer, only to be shot later by Smith's son, William. The shooting was said to have grown out of an altercation at the polls. Bingham was reported to have beaten Smith to the draw.

FIRES IN SELF-DEFENCE
At Danville, Ky., Joseph Hayden, a Democratic candidate, shot and killed Ed Doneghy, a negro. He was said to have fired in self-defence.

Elias Dotson, fifty, a farmer of Phelps, Ky., was arrested and charged with murder after the death of Ward Hatfield, thirty-five. It was said the two quarreled over the removal of Hatfield as deputy constable. Dotson had been instrumental in his removal.

CANDIDATE WOUNDED
At Elkhorn, Ky., Adam Cotter, a former deputy sheriff, was shot twice in an election row. Another shooting occurred at Longan, Ky., where a Democratic candidate was wounded.

In New York City an aged voter, Daniel O'Brien, dropped dead inside a polling booth just as he closed the curtain. Generally speaking the polling was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner. In New York City, Chicago and some other centres large numbers of voters were challenged at the polls. Their cases will come before the courts later.

FOUNDATION TO GIVE BIG SUM FOR HYGIENE INSTITUTION IN JAPAN

By B. W. FLEISHER
(Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

TOKIO, Japan, Nov. 5.—The Rockefeller Foundation, through Dr. Victor G. Heiser, assistant director of the Foundation's health board, has announced its desire to donate $1,500,000 towards the establishment of an institute for hygiene in Japan to be maintained by the Japanese Government.

Dr. Heiser, together with Dr. W. W. Grant, director of the Chinese branch of the Foundation, called on Kenao Adachi, Minister of Home Affairs, with the offer yesterday. The proposal was gratefully accepted. A committee will be appointed shortly to consider the details of the proposed institution, according to the tentative plans, and later submit its suggestions to the Rockefeller Foundation. After the preliminary work is completed, the donation will be officially confirmed.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF LORD'S DAY ACT SOUGHT IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—Inaugurating, it is claimed, an intensive campaign by local presbyteries of the United Church of Canada for more strict enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the West Toronto Presbytery yesterday forwarded a resolution to Attorney-General W. H. Price, of Ontario, asking his co-operation toward this end.

The campaign, it is understood, is aimed to halt miniature golf courses from operating on Sundays, gasoline stations from selling fuel, drug stores which sell any article other than that prescribed by the act, golf clubs from allowing members to play to the detriment of church attendance, and persons from selling fruit and other produce along the highways on the Sabbath day.

Italy's public improvement projects will give work to 90,000 men.

A CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

At the first by-election in which there was a contest since the Tolmie Government took office the Conservatives have won a victory of a very decisive character. North Vancouver has reverted from the Liberal column to the side of the Government. Mr. J. Loutet, who was the losing candidate in the general election, has been returned to the Legislature by a majority of nearly 400. At the election of July 18, 1928, Captain Ian Mackenzie (Liberal) polled 2,498; J. Loutet (Conservative) 2,466, and A. C. MacMillan (Independent) 397. Yesterday's poll was not so heavy but the result was a good deal more emphatic.

Mr. T. D. Pattullo, the Liberal leader, made the issue in the North Vancouver by-election. He took credit for inducing the North Shore Liberal Association to write to Premier Tolmie and ask for an assurance that the Government would undertake the completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, in which event the Liberal promised not to contest the seat. This was tantamount to an intimation that Mr. Pattullo considered himself in a strong enough position, with a by-election in the offing, to order the Government which the Government should take. The North Vancouver voters have not viewed the situation in the same way. They have accepted the policy being pursued by Dr. Tolmie which is to carry on negotiations for the disposal of the Pacific Great Eastern to one or other, or both, of the transcontinental railway companies. Failing this the Government will go ahead and complete the connections to Prince George and to North Vancouver.

The result in yesterday's by-election is a vindication at the polls of the policies pursued by the Conservative Government since it took office. It has continued to carry out plans for provincial development on safe and sane lines. It has refused to be stampeded by criticism. The North Vancouver electors were told by Dr. Tolmie and those Ministers of his Cabinet who took part in the by-election campaign of how the present policies are being implemented. More especially the situation in regard to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was explained to them and their confidence sought in the policy that is in view. The endorsement given to the Government is a substantial one in a by-election contest. Dr. Tolmie is legitimately well pleased. He can continue to carry on his work with such a demonstration that he has the people behind him in his policies.

HYDROGRAPHIC WORK

The presence here of Mr. Alfred Duranseau, the Federal Minister of Marine, is accompanied by the announcement that the Dominion Government is considering the construction of two hydrographic vessels, one for each of the coasts of Canada. The hope may be expressed that such conditions will govern the tenders for these vessels that they can be constructed in the Dominion. The building of one of them at a local shipyard would be of particular value at this time in assisting in unemployment relief.

Mr. Duranseau has shown an immediate grasp of the needs of his office although only holding the portfolio of Marine for a few months. The want of an up-to-date hydrographic vessel on this coast has been felt for a long time. There is a great deal of work to be done and it should be carried along in a continuous way. With the establishment of a new hydrographic vessel a permanent policy will have been inaugurated by the Government in a manner better calculated to promote efficiency than under the present conditions.

The Ministers of the Federal Cabinet are taking the opportunity, in preparation for their duties in Parliament, of acquainting themselves with needs in various parts of the country. It is a part of the education of such Ministers to travel from one end of the Dominion to the other. It is only by personal touch that they can visualize the national policies and local needs. Mr. Duranseau realizes this, as do the Ministers who preceded him to the Pacific Coast during the past six weeks. The Minister of Marine is determined to make a thorough inspection of those matters which come within his purview so that he may frame legislation for any improvements required. If he will implement the construction of a new hydrographic vessel for this coast and insure that it is built here he will be giving an earnest of his appreciation of Pacific Coast needs.

UNITED STATES ELECTIONS

The results of Tuesday's elections in United States are not fully known but are sufficient to show that the Democrats have made notable gains, even if they will not control both the Senate and the House of Representatives. It is undoubted that the business depression has been a factor in the turnover in public opinion, that there is dissatisfaction with the Hoover Administration, and that the failure of Prohibition and inability to provide adequate farm relief have played their part in the results.

From the standpoint of countries outside the United States the most significant feature of the election is the evidence it has given of a certain weariness of spirit that has come over the people because of the failure of efforts of the Government to enforce the Volstead Act. The elections have proved that there is a very definite trend in the tide of public sentiment away from Prohibition. The political parties are divided on the subject. There are dry Democrats and wet Republicans, and vice versa, but wherever referendum have been taken on the straight subject of wet or dry the gains shown by the former political trend of thought have been emphatic. That does not mean that there is the slightest chance of the Eighteenth Amendment being rescinded through any efforts of the present Administration. It does mean, however, that the gathering volume of thought on the subject is likely to make

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

I had a wee hen w' a hippy leg. And every day she laid me an egg. On Sunday she laid me an egg. —Old song.

We are, of course, all proud of Hen No. 5, the industrious British Columbia biddy which laid one egg every day for three hundred and fifty-seven days (with an extra egg deposited in the nest for good measure), but is there not a possibility that such diligence in business may be a trifle overdone? Suppose Hen No. 5 were to take a respite from her labors and go into the business of raising families—the domestic instinct is strong in members of the fowl tribe—and all the chickens of the No. 5 family were to go into the business of producing eggs at the rate of one a day, very soon the market for eggs would be flooded to the saturation point and there would be no profit in the business of producing and marketing eggs.

FOR WOUNDED IN BODY AND SPIRIT

For some reason, not wholly apparent, the campaign of the Armistice Period Committee and the Red Cross Society to raise $20,000 for their joint needs, has not, so far, attained the success that should, from a humane standpoint, be anticipated. The committee in charge has been energetic enough. It has made personal canvasses. It has been assisted by publicity outlining the purposes for which the money is wanted. Those purposes are above reproach and contain an appeal which should not go unanswered. Only about one-quarter of the fund appealed for has been subscribed. That is not the way our citizens have been in the habit of responding where the energies of the Armistice Period Committee and the Red Cross are concerned.

The committee entertains the hope that the money sought will be forthcoming on or before November 11, the anniversary of the Armistice. Thus only a few days remain, so that a more than usually active response from our citizenship is desirable if the goal is to be reached. That goal is to alleviate the sufferings of war victims and others who are victims of circumstances over which they have had no control. It is a work of humanitarianism in its highest expression. It represents the efforts of a self-sacrificing citizenship, of those who are devoting their time and energies to seeing that, so far as possible, there shall be no suffering in this great and rich country. It is so great and so rich that it is a matter of self-respect to respond to such an appeal for funds as is now being made with such objects in view. Perhaps this aspect is not realized by our people. Were it, then the answer would be instant.

There is enough wealth concentrated in Victoria to make the subscription of $20,000 for such objects as are the cause of the Armistice Period Committee and the Red Cross a mere bagatelle. The appeal is to the finer susceptibilities of our fellow men. It is an appeal to aid suffering, to lighten the burdens of sorrow, to show the spirit of kindness; in short, it is an appeal that touches the heartstrings of a common Christianity. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

ILLUMINATED DIALS

Sir,—Now that the dial system is upon us, will not some bright and kind-hearted inventor come to the rescue with his, or, of course, preferably, their, device for the automatic internal illumination of the precious dial?

PARK SUPERINTENDENT

Sir,—I notice in the city and district column of November 4 that the City Council has to wait another week before decision is made of the appointment of a parks superintendent. It is rumored around the city that it is the intention of the Parks Board to appoint a man from outside the city of Victoria. If this is true, why is it necessary? Surely there are men now employed by the city who have had sufficient experience and have served the city well enough to be entitled to advancement.

Then again the council would be going against its own principles by not appointing a person already in the city's service, should he be competent to take the higher position.

GEORGE A. ALLEN

PROSPECTS AT FULFORD HARBOR

Sir,—Now that the St. Cy Peck has made South Salt Spring a suburb of Victoria, the manifest destiny of Fulford Harbor is to become the center of population of our Island. (Necessity, I think, will make it so.) There this, but there are other factors. In addition to launches, stores, good telephone service and all such other accessories, as are common to all parts, we have ideal sites for summer homes, many attractive beaches, good fishing grounds, sheltered waters, excellent soil, pure drinking water (a vital necessity), all kinds of farm produce, and a large hall, where badminton and basketball are played in their season.

We also have admirable tennis courts, and visitors are welcomed on these.

The reason I mention all this is because I would like to give a hint to my many friends in Victoria, South Salt Spring and Fulford Harbor, that the potential summer home builder and Fulford is the central point. Those who defer action too long may find that the value of the land will be sound business to investigate our possibilities promptly.

Whilst other parts of our island are being developed, we are bound to use Victoria for many reasons, and if Victoria comes to us they will cement the bonds uniting us to the island. By spending their money with us during the summer they will be supplying us with more cash to spend with them all the year round. Summer residents offer an ideal local market and so forth, only social but business friendships of a permanent nature.

With some truth we have been doing our "Paradise Island," also "Lotus Island" and "The Isle of Dreams." Apparently some of us have wonderful dreams of our future state. Is that the Gulf Islands will belong to British Columbia what the Channel Islands are to England.

Thanks to J. S. H. Matson, Colonel Cy Peck, and the latter, this dream bids fair to be realized.

W. J. L. HAMILTON.
Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island, B.C., November 1, 1930.

CATS

Sir,—Now that the cat controversy has started probably something may be done to preserve our wild and song birds that were introduced from England some years back, if they still remain. Cats today have not the usefulness they had when they were kept to keep down mice and be fondled by old maids. Mice traps can be purchased for two for five cents, and very efficient they are.

The scarcity of bird life is one great cause of the large amount of the chief cause of children's complaints. For instance, I saw a case where a child had scarlet fever and while sick was allowed to fondle the cat. The cat in turn, being a favorite in the neighborhood, turns with other children in the neighborhood and carried the scarlet fever around. The medical officer told me he traced eight cases to that cat alone, but was helpless to do anything.

Putting tinkle bells on cats in some neighborhoods might help to soothe down the horrible squeals that cats let out when sent out around houses in the middle of the night. Our city council, racking its brains to secure new forms of revenue, might very well impose the same tax on cats as on the dogs and have a law passed to allow people only to keep pedigreed animals. We have only to go out into the woods to see the quantities of once domestic cats neglected by their owners earning a living by preying on bird life.

On the other hand, there are other wise men who say that cats can be no such thing as over-production; that the world is not suffering from the consequences of over-production, but from the consequences of under-consumption and the high cost of distribution. There are other men, wiser still, who declare that every body has been working too hard for too many hours and too many days. Those very wise men want the number of working days and working hours reduced, with no corresponding reduction in pay, of course. They declare that if the masses of the people had more money, and more time in which to spend the money, they would consume more, and speedily produce an equilibrium between production and consumption. They might as well say that Hen No. 5 has been breaking all the rules affecting production and consumption, and that effective measures must be taken to limit her productive zeal.

Putting the various theories together, we therefore have reached the conclusion that in multitude of counsellors there is nothing but confusion, and that time alone can effect a cure of the present ills of the world.

THE GOLD STANDARD

Sir,—Whether the supply of gold and expanding monetary requirements will balance each other in the immediate future is a question much to the minds of experts on economy. At the present stage of human progress money is a necessity, for money is the instrumentality by which the life of the community is maintained. To find the remedy, why gold was chosen as the standard of value one must go back to the early history of the race. Iron, copper, tin and lead were used as standards of value before gold. The American race were highly astonished at the extraordinary value set upon gold and silver by the Spaniards. The Mexicans and Peruvians used coins of copper and tin, while

ABERNI BOARD OF TRADE
Sir,—In your issue of October 30 you reported a meeting of the Alberni Board of Trade stating that the following discussion took place:
"It was brought to the attention of the meeting that at one time Alberni had proper wharf facilities and that considerable shipping was done from this town. Now, however, freight shipped by water was landed at Port Alberni and had to be handled by truck to Alberni. While it was practically impossible for the larger C.P.R. boats to safely navigate the Soan River, it was possible to place the river-bred in shape so that boats of intermediate tonnage would have no difficulty in landing at Alberni."

REV. E. NICHOLAS
DIES IN SIDNEYPioneer Missionary to Indians
Had Lived in Victoria for Many YearsFUNERAL TO BE IN CITY

Rev. Edward Nicholas, resident in this city for a quarter of a century, passed away yesterday in Sidney, at the home of Rev. Thomas Keyworth. Together with his wife, who died two years ago, he had been engaged in Indian mission work for many years before coming to Victoria.

Born in England eighty-five years ago, he came to this province at the age of thirty-five, and was first stationed in the Nass River district, later moving to Bella Coola, where he remained for nine years. After thirteen years' work with the Indians in Northern British Columbia, Mr. Nicholas and his wife were allowed a well-deserved furlough. On their return to active duty they were located at Cowichan, where for two years they had charge of a school and six neighboring villages. Later they went to Rivers Inlet and later to Nanaimo, and still later they were stationed at Osoyoos on Vancouver Island. In 1905 they came to Victoria and lived at Byron Street, Oak Bay.

Three months ago Mr. Nicholas removed to Sidney, and made his home with Rev. T. Keyworth. Funeral service will be held on Friday afternoon, the cortege proceeding from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home to the Metropolitan United Church, where service will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

The body of John Lindsey, an inmate of the Aged Men's Home, was discovered at the corner of Poul Bay Road and Fort Street early yesterday morning. Police report that the body of Mr. Lindsey, who was eighty-two years of age, bore no marks, and it is thought that he might have suffered from a sudden heart attack. He was born in Scotland and had been a resident of this city for the past twenty years. He is survived by two sisters in Scotland.

Funeral service will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the parlors of the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The danger arising from an ever-growing Oriental population in Canada and the desirability of preserving the Dominion for a white race was impressed on members of the St. George's Society last night by S. D'Arcy Carey, president of the Maple Leaf Association.

Mr. Carey described the inception of the association and the work which it had accomplished, urging his hearers to give the movement the support from motives of patriotism.

H. Langley, president of the society, introduced the speaker, who was accorded a warm reception.

GOVERNMENT TO HEAR
OF APPLE MARKETINGBumper Crop Grown in Province
This Year but Prairie Demand Lagged

Difficulties in the way of marketing a heavy crop of apples produced this year in British Columbia will be discussed with the Provincial Cabinet here today, on the arrival of F. M. Black, chairman of the interior committee of direction.

Apple production this year is said to be nearly equal to the record, 6,000,000 boxes, packed in the bumper period a few years ago, but marketing conditions have created a problem, due to lower purchasing power generally and marked drop in sales of the British Columbia product on the Prairies.

The situation in the Okanagan Valley, as a result of a large crop and a poor market, is acute and has led to the general conference, which will take place on the subject before the Government today.

This much I know, each day I have been led Through calm or tempest, triumph or defeat,
And after clouds and cruel winds have sped,
I have found tranquil skies and gardens sweet.
Not mine to plan my course, not mine to ask

But I am grateful for each humble task

DEPOSED PRESIDENT OF BRAZIL REMAINS
PRISONER AT FORT

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 5.—Washington Luis, who was turned out of office by the recent revolution, must remain a prisoner at Fort Copacabana at least until the present state of siege is terminated.

The Supreme Court of Brazil today refused to consider a habeas corpus action instituted with the view of obtaining liberty for the man who until a few days ago held the highest office in the republic. The reason given for the refusal was the suspension of constitutional rights on account of the state of siege.

Portugal and Austria have just been connected by telephone.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises, as in your dream and get 1 oz. of Parment (Devils Strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Cleared nostrils should open, breathing become easier and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

The business of Hatt's Hardware has been built on a basis of POPULAR PRICES and a 40 per cent rent increase at this time is out of the question . . . therefore we move.

In preparation for the gigantic task of store moving we unload this $35,000 stock of household hardware, heaters, ranges, tools, etc. Not a single department will escape the price-slashing . . . it will be a sale without a precedent in the hardware trade of British Columbia . . . and it begins tomorrow morning.

"What is wind," a primary teacher asked her six-year-olds.

There was silence for a moment.

It was a deep question. Then a smile suddenly illumined Betty Ann's features. Up shot her little hand. "Wind," she said, "is air taking exercise."

DISCRIMINATION WAS NOT SHOWN AT DOLLARTON

Premier Tolmie Refutes Allegation Made in Liberal Press

ROAD LINK PLANNED WHEN POLL UNKNOWN

Refuting as groundless an article appearing in the afternoon Liberal press this week in connection with work on the North Dollarton highway, in which it was alleged the Government was using Dominion unemployment funds for this work, and discriminating in connection with the employment of men, Premier Tolmie issued the following statement yesterday:

"These allegations are untrue. The money appropriated for this work have nothing to do with the Dominion Government. The route was surveyed before an election was ever thought of, and it is part of the orderly scheme of road development on the North Shore.

"In connection with the employment of men; this is being done in co-operation with the municipality, without any political discrimination.

"Therefore the statement made that 'Hon. R. W. Bruhn placed 100 men on the road for election purposes,' is a misstatement of fact," concluded Premier Tolmie.

LABOR BODY MAY ENTER POLITICS

All-Canadian Congress Favors Entry of Candidates at Federal Election

PROBE OF FLOUR PRICES

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—Participation of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor in Federal politics at the next general election was virtually assured when delegates to the fourth annual convention, meeting here today, concurred in the recommendation of its executive urging local unions to take active part in politics. The recommendation of the executive was as follows: "While the congress can approach political action only so far as to prepare the basis for a Labor party, it may do much in its proper sphere of economic organization to turn the attention of workers to the necessity of securing representation in legislative chambers of members of their own class.

"The congress stands firmly opposed to the doctrine of United States-controlled unions, that no political discussion can be permitted at union meetings. It repudiates the self-effacement of Labor in politics—that Labor can attain its objective with its political arm tied behind its back—and urges the unions to participate actively in politics by supporting Labor candidates in Federal, provincial and municipal elections, financially as well as morally.

LABOR CANDIDATES

"With four years to elapse before the next Federal election, the local Labor groups within the congress have ample time to prepare to place Labor candidates in the field when the time arrives. They should do this by association, on a delegate basis, with local political organizations.

The delegates also concurred in the executive's recommendation that steps should be taken to make the Minimum Wage Act for men uniform in the Dominion. The executive's report, endorsing the scheme of migration and settlement within the Empire, as proposed by George Lansbury, British Labor member of Parliament, also received concurrence.

The morning session today saw the passage of a petition asking the Minister of Labor to investigate the Canadian Millers' Association, with respect to the price of flour, which was declared excessive. The Government will be urged to terminate its agreement with the Canadian Macaroni Company for the operation of radio stations, and to undertake the operation itself through the radiotelegraph branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

REJECTS RESOLUTION

Taking the stand that it had no desire to block the wheels of progress, the convention turned down as "nonprogressive" a resolution protesting the scientific development of machinery by the Canadian National Railways. At the same time, a resolution was carried condemning the use of paint-spraying machines as detrimental to the health of the workers.

City & District

Two-Minute Silence—At 11 o'clock in the month of November 11, a two-minute period of silence will be observed in Victoria, as in all parts of the British Empire, marking the time and date of the signing of the Armistice which ended hostilities in the Great War.

Lord Stonehaven Coming—Lord Stonehaven, who has completed his five years as Governor-General of Australia, is due to arrive in Victoria today on his way to England. While in the city he will address the members of the Victoria Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel on Friday at 12:15. Lord Stonehaven is a gifted orator and was for many years a member of the British House of Commons for the Rugby Division.

Ladner Ploughing Match—Hon. William Atkinson was scheduled to open the provincial ploughing match at Ladner yesterday, the final test after district competitions held earlier in the year. Mr. Atkinson takes a practical interest in the contests, and last year won first place for driving a straight, clean furrow in competition with the pick of the province. Upwards of a dozen district ploughing matches were held this year, with assistance from the Department of Agriculture.

To Hear Delegations—Vancouver civic officials, headed by Mayor Malikin, will arrive in the city today, to make representations to the Government in connection with unemployment matters. The delegation will meet Premier Tolmie and members of the Cabinet this morning. A second delegation, composed of members of the Vancouver Board of Trade, Real Estate Exchange and the Associated Ratepayers has asked for an audience with the Government on land assessment and taxation matters and will be heard on Tuesday next.

NO!

Piano Playing Is NOT Declining

AN editorial in yesterday's Colonist under the caption "Decline of Piano Playing" is so full of erroneous ideas that I am taking this opportunity to correct these mis-statements on behalf of the music teachers and pianoforte dealers of Victoria.

To surmise that because used pianos are frequently offered in the classified columns of the press is attributable to lack of interest in piano playing is entirely wrong. It is evidence of the substantial value of investment in a piano. These instruments, many of which are ten, fifteen and twenty years old, are from homes where those who have enjoyed their comfort and solace have been obliged to part with them for a variety of reasons. With proper reconditioning and tuning they are ready to become the possession of another who appreciates the joy of being able to express oneself in music. Can anyone name a mechanical musical instrument of today that will have any value at all after twenty years of service?

It has long been recognized in the piano trade that good quality pianos give a great many years of service. Because such instruments have a long "life" of usefulness there are many hundreds of thousands of children the world over who are being given the priceless advantage of a musical education. Parents today are as ready as ever they have been to make sacrifices in order that their children may enjoy the cultural influence which comes with pianoforte training under the watchful guidance of a painstaking teacher.

No! Piano playing is not on the decline. Far too many thinking people KNOW that the standard of all musical expression is the piano. It is still the BASIC instrument, outstanding in its prestige and unequalled in its depth of appeal to the human emotions. Without a piano, a home lacks one of life's finest treasures—an ever-enduring source of happiness and entertainment.

Pile Sufferers

End Your Misery Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are badly diseased and weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. E. Leunhardt, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients, with the marvellous record of success in 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. MacParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores will supply you and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery. (Adv.)

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S CHOIR

Hudson's Bay Glee Club
Gives Excellent Concert
at Shrine Hall

MANY ENCORES GIVEN

The Shrine Hall auditorium, View Street, was crowded to capacity last night to hear the Hudson's Bay Glee Club in its second public appearance. Each of the numbers drew continual applause and encores from an appreciative audience, with the club heard to particular advantage in the rendition of Ford's "Ding-a-Ling," and "Greeting to Spring," from the Blue Danube, by Strauss.

The Garden City Quartette, composed of Messrs. Oakman, Walton, Woolard and Maguire, presented a number of popular numbers, which, like those of the club, were loudly applauded. Their rendition of "On the Road to Mandalay," by Speaks, and Mace's "Little Tommy Went a Fishing," surpassed that of other numbers.

Miss Isabelle Crawford, soprano, gold medalist at the British Columbia Musical Festival; George Tate, seventeen-year-old Victoria boy violinist, and members of the Garden City Quartette, were the assisting artists.

Last night's presentation showed a large and appreciative audience what can be achieved by constant practice, and bore testimony to the many hours of training put in by members of the club. It was also a splendid tribute to the untiring efforts of Joseph Maguire, the conductor.

LARGE STORIES OF POLES

SMITHERS' operations in the woods have been suspended by the Hanson Lumber & Timber Company until such time as the large piles of poles in the shipping yard at Cedervale and Nash have been reduced. Close to 100,000 poles are in storage. A large percentage of the stock on hand has already been contracted for by Eastern concerns but having their own yards filled with poles they have withheld shipping instructions. Only key men are being retained on the company's payroll at present.

Clubs and Societies

R. B. McMicking Chapter

The November meeting of the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at 8 o'clock, on Tuesday evening, at the Municipal Rooms, View Street. The regent, Mrs. H. O. Bell, occupied the chair. During the evening the money for two school libraries was voted; also substantial donations were voted toward the Christmas hamper fund, both for the city fund and the Peace River (Rolla) fund, and to the I.O.D.E. chapter work in India. A few of the members of the chapter volunteered to tag for Poppy Day, and a donation was also voted to assist the Armistice-Red Cross campaign. A discussion regarding assistance of the blind people of Victoria followed, it being decided that more visiting should be done and the work extended.

Miss Connie Chrow was appointed leader in this connection. Final arrangements were made regarding the bridge-tee to be held in the private tearoom at Spencers Limited on Saturday afternoon, November 29, to commence at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. W. Davey, 346 Vancouver Street, is the convener, and those wishing to make reservations are requested to phone her at E3730. Tea guests will be welcome. Before the meeting adjourned, the members were reminded that the next meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday evening, December 3. This is to be a social meeting.

Chemists W.A.

The Women's Auxiliary, M.S.C.C. of St. Michael's and All Angels, held a meeting on Monday to welcome Deaconess Miss Simcox, of Victoria. ## COUNCIL HEARS MANY OPINIONS ON ZONE BY-LAW

Receives Recommendations for Inclusion in Proposed Amendment

ESTATE BOARD GIVES WRITTEN STATEMENTS

Expressions of opinions of individuals and criticism of the application of the city zoning by-law to present day requirements, together with the presentation of a number of suggested amendments, were the highlights of the public hearing, in connection with the City Council's proposed "Zoning Amendment By-law," held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, at which the City Council was present in a body.

LIMIT DISCUSSION

At the outset of the hearing Mayor Ansonb reminded the speakers that suggestions or criticisms should concern the proposed amendment by-law and not the zoning measure. In spite of this many of the speakers deviated from the by-law under discussion and expressed opinions on zoning. It was generally stated by all speakers that the principle of zoning should be maintained, but there appeared to be serious opposition to many of the clauses in the original by-law, some of the speakers going as far as to suggest a repeal of the original measure and replacement of it with one of more simple design and of greater modification. With this, however, the council had nothing to do at the hearing as was explained by the Mayor. The suggestions were, he said, to be continued to the measure before the council.

REAL ESTATE BOARD

David Leeming, who appeared on behalf of the Victoria Real Estate Board, presented the only written suggestions at the hearing. These suggestions had been recently approved by the executive of the board for inclusion in the proposed amended by-law.

The suggestions were as follows: In the fire limits: "Economic conditions only to govern the uses to which a building may be put. Other building restrictions as to construction, space, height, etc., to be observed. This privilege to extend from the fifth lot east of Cook Street on any street extending east of Cook Street, between Bay and Mears Streets."

General principles: "Where a certain class of building is authorized or permitted under the by-law the property immediately adjoining may be used for the erection of buildings for similar use and the owner of the property next adjoining to be entitled to build for use in class next higher. In the event of an owner erecting a building for a certain use, the owner of the property adjoining shall be entitled to build for similar use. The next adjoining shall then be entitled to build in class next higher. For example, take five lots in sequence: Lot 1, garage; lot 2, retail; lot 3, apartment; lot 4, duplex; and lot 5, single dwelling. In this way the economic situation would take care of the development. On certain streets this application might be prohibited.

"Where property is zoned for certain use on any corner of streets that intersect or meet, the same right should extend to all corners.

"Where there are existing stores, the right to build or repair should be granted, to comply with building requirements. The present by-law is very detrimental to mortgages of property where the present occupancy is not allowed in certain districts, as the right to repair or rebuild, say in case of a bad fire, rests not on the decision of the board but of the City Council. This makes the value of the security very questionable."

"On main thoroughfares, such as Government Street, north of Belleville Street; Douglas Street, north of Belleville Street; Port Street to the junction of Oak Bay Avenue, all Yates Street, Pandora Avenue to the city limits; Quadra Street to Market Street; Cook Street from Mears to Bay; George Road, Hillside Avenue, Shelbourne Street, and Bay Street, permission to erect stores, garages and other higher classification should be given."

"Duplex houses should be permitted in all districts, except where specially exempted."

"Where light industry is permitted and a street forms the boundary of such an area the privilege to erect buildings for similar uses should extend to the first tier of lots on the other side of the street."

"In the recent past a committee of the City Council has objected to the use of certain properties on the ground that the district is already served by existing facilities, and such expression of opinion followed by a refusal to the owner to allow him to improve his property on such grounds, is quite beyond the power of such a committee." In this connection the chairman of the Zoning Appeal Board stated that, while the matter has been mentioned, where refusal was given it was because of other reasons as well.

"In the opinion of the committee no property owner should be deprived of the right of appeal to a court of law."

SUGGESTS REPEAL

Mr. Leeming directed some remarks to the principle of zoning in Victoria and maintained that the zoning by-law up to the present time has been more or less experimental and the experience of its operation shows the necessity for amendment of its provisions and zones.

Mr. Leeming, speaking for the Real Estate Board, said it was the opinion of that body if the recommendations could not be included in the by-law, the whole measure should be annulled and another by-law put in its place. The present by-law, he said, was not adequate to meet all requirements.

Alderman W. T. Strath stated he considered that many of the suggestions from the Real Estate Board could be taken care of by the Zoning Appeal Board if the latter was given greater power to make amendments. He said that power was being asked of the Provincial Legislature.

POWER OF BOARD

Mayor Ansonb said he was opposed to granting unlimited powers to the board. "Create that power and you create a small legislature in itself, which will be open to all kinds of lobbying." It was agreed by all speakers that it would be a dangerous move to grant full power of decision to the Appeal Board. H. D. Patterson said: "Property owners should not be at the mercy of the Zoning Appeal Board."

There were various other speakers, but the majority of them addressed the meeting on matters related to the original by-law and not to the amendment by-law. Those who addressed the meeting included: J. V. Copeland, H. Shandley, H. D. Patterson, A. Harman, L. Gale, Percy Fox and members of the council.

The amendment by-law has been introduced in council and given first reading and is now headed for the second reading stage. It is predicted that a lively debate will take place when the bill is called in the second reading.

Injured Man Lies in Semi-Conscious State

NANAIMO, Nov. 5.—Tom McArthur, Strickland Street, who suffered a serious accident about noon Monday, at the Western Fuel coal loading wharf, in latest reports from the local hospital this morning, is reported as being in a semi-conscious state, but has shown signs of improvement.

Mr. McArthur was sawing a beam on the wharf when he fell on to the protecting boom alongside the piling twelve or fourteen feet below, suffering a broken arm and fracture of the skull, rolling into the water after striking the boom, and being rescued by his fellow workmen at the pile-driving gang.

FUNERAL AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Nov. 5.—The funeral took place from the D. J. Jenkins Chapel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the late Frank English, Rev. John McTurk officiating at the chapel and graveside. At the service in the chapel the minister spoke eloquently and feelingly of the sterling qualities of the deceased, paying high tribute to his character. During the service in the chapel the two hymns "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Abide With Me" were sung. Mrs. E. McCourt presiding at the organ. There was a large attendance at the funeral by those respectful to highly-esteemed and well-beloved friend.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—A body of unemployed men, some 200 strong, stormed into Ottawa City Hall today under the belief that a resolution adopted last night by the city council was to deprive them of work, but the while thing turned out to be a misunderstanding. Mayor Frank Plant explained the resolution in detail in a brief address to the men. They had been gathered into the council chamber, and the impromptu meeting ended.

STRONG ARM METHODS NECESSARY TO HALT SUDBURY PROCESSION

SUDBURY, Nov. 5.—Forced to use strong-arm methods when a procession of Communists over 300 strong began to march on the City Hall with their demands, the city police force, augmented by a force of special constables, dispersed the agitators. The parade was allowed to proceed along about two blocks from their meeting place in Liberty Hall. When met by the police and ordered to disband, they resisted the officers and it was necessary for the latter to bring their batons into play.

The majority of the crowd dispersed, some running at top speed from the scene, but the more persistent refused to move and were arrested.

Birthday Tea Held at 'Schuhuum'

"We need members now, as perhaps never before, to foster patriotism in the schools and elsewhere," said Mrs. R. B. McMicking yesterday afternoon at the birthday tea of Camosun Chapter, I.O.O.F., held at the home of Miss Kathleen Agnew, "Schuhuum," Rockland Avenue. The party marked the anniversary of the founding of the order in Victoria, and Mrs. McMicking, one of the charter members, gave an interesting account of the first meeting, with amusing anecdotes as illustration. Mrs. Henry Croft had called the meeting twenty-one years ago, and Mrs. Rocke Robertson was chosen as regent, and the name "Camosun" suggested by Miss Macdonald, was selected. In 1910 Mrs. Croft was elected regent, and it was found necessary to divide the chapter, which was rapidly growing in numbers, so that the Gonzales Chapter, headed by Mrs. Curtis Sampson, and the Lady Douglas Chapter, with Mrs. McMicking as regent, were organized. Other chapters were gradually formed, and when war was declared in 1914, the "value of patriotic organization was made apparent," said Mrs. McMicking.

The guests were welcomed yesterday by Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, the regent of Camosun Chapter, and by Miss Agnew. A table of fancy work was in charge of Mrs. D. W. Burnett and Mrs. Lorne Campbell, and the tea table was charmingly arranged in a patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue, carried out in the blue and white candles, red pentamons and white carnations.

Among those present during the afternoon were Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. C. P. Hill, Mrs. G. Sylvester, Mrs. C. L. Campbell, Mrs. L. P. Macrae, Miss A. Taylor, Miss E. Taylor, Miss I. Bannerman, Mrs. C. Wrigglesworth, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Mrs. G. Miles, Mrs. P. Smith, Mrs. J. M. Newcomb, Mrs. C. Drummond Hay, Mrs. E. Thorne, Mrs. J. E. MEDICINE HAT, Nov. 5.—Further investigation into the deaths of fifteen-year-old Mirna Stern and Adam Schneider has resulted in the finding of strychnine poisoning in the girl's stomach, Provincial Coroner Braithwaite revealed today.

The two persons were found dead on a lonely road near the little town of Irvine, Alta., last August, after they had been missing a year. On request of the girl's father the case was reopened recently and an analysis of the girl's stomach revealed poisoning.

LAST SERVICE IN MAPLE BAY CHURCH IS HELD

Congregation Formed in 1869 Has Joined With
Duncan United Church

STORY IS RELATED OF PIONEER ISLAND LIFE

SOMENOS, Nov. 5.—The Maple Bay United Church held its last service on Sunday afternoon as it is joining with the Duncan United Church. There was a very large congregation, many of those present coming from Duncan and its neighborhood.

Rev. W. F. Burns read a review of the history of the church, prepared by H. Flett, which was, in outline, as follows:

Religious services were first held by Methodists at Maple Bay in the summer of 1869, when they held camp meetings about where the Maple Bay Inn now stands.

THE FIRST CHURCH

The first church was built in the earlier part of 1869, where the Maple Bay Cemetery is now. The site was then part of a 100-acre section of land, pre-empted from the Government by Rev. Edward White.

This building was built of logs and lined with tongue and groove lumber. It was erected entirely by voluntary labor. Archibald Kier was one of the leaders in its construction and was about the only Methodist in the district.

PIONEER HISTORY

Unfortunately, there were no accurate records kept of this church. The first minutes in the trustee book are dated June 24, 1875, when the first minister came as a resident. Between the years 1869 and 1875, Rev. Darrick and Rev. Bryant, both of Nanaimo, took the services every alternate fortnight.

In those days there were not any collections taken and it was maintained by subscriptions of so much a year. Rev. W. V. Sexsmith was the first resident minister, and a parsonage was built in 1875 across from the present church. Mr. Sexsmith preached once a fortnight at Maple Bay, taking the Sunday at South Cowichan and Somenos on the same day. The alternate Sunday he spoke at Burgoyne, Vesuvius and the Mid-Night Settlement, all on Salt Spring Island.

AFTER AN INTERVAL

From 1881 to 1883, there were not any services held. In 1884, Mr. Chapelle, of Saanich, came once a month and also went to Somenos to preach. J. A. Wood came here for three years and helped to open the Bench Church, which was built at a "bee." The McPhersons were prominent workers.

Mr. Hemlawa was the first married minister and was here from 1886 to 1888. Mr. Bob succeeded him and worked in the district for three years.

NEW CHURCHES BUILT

From 1891 to 1893, Rev. Sutherland was in charge and helped to have the churches erected at Chemainus and Duncan.

The cornerstone of the present church was laid on October 10, 1893, when Rev. James Calvert was stationed here.

The ministers that have been here since the present Maple Bay Church was built are: Rev. James Calvert, Rev. E. Manuel, Rev. J. W. Winslow, Rev. Stoney, Rev. Howard Osborne.

Rev. W. C. Schlichter, Rev. F. A. Magee, Rev. J. H. Wright, Rev. A. W. Dever, Rev. J. W. Dickinson, Rev. A. F. Redman, Rev. C. R. Sling, Rev. J. J. Nixon, Rev. J. R. Butler, Rev. J. R. Hewitt, and when union came in 1925, Rev. J. R. Hewitt and Rev. Bryce Wallace. Rev. W. F. Burns is present minister.

CLOSE OF SERVICE

After the address, John Flett, one of the pioneers, spoke a few words about the present church. Dr. E. L. Garner, on behalf of the Duncan United Church session, welcomed the Maple Bay congregation to the Duncan church. Mr. A. R. Mann, of the Duncan United Church board of stewards also welcomed the Maple Bay church members.

The Duncan choir attended and sang an anthem, and Miss Etta Hood gave a solo. The service was closed by the congregation heartily joining in "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Turkey Breeders To Hold Show at Duncan, Nov. 20

SOMENOS, Nov. 5.—The Cowichan Turkey Breeders' Association will hold a show exclusively for turkeys in St. John's Hall, Duncan, on November 20. This will be the first exhibition of this character in British Columbia. A good showing of Bronze, White, Hollands and Narragansetts is expected.

During the last few years the interest in the industry has been keen in the Cowichan district and many of the growers have brought in numbers of good birds. There are now some very fine flocks and an exhibition seems to be the next logical step.

Arrangements are being made to have a turkey dinner after the show.

Stewards of Four Clubs in Nanaimo Fined $300 Each

NANAIMO, Nov. 5.—Fines of $300 each were imposed by Magistrate Beavor Potts, in the police court here today, on the stewards of four clubs charged with keeping liquor for sale. The prosecution followed a raid conducted by the Provincial Police on October 25.

The stewards of the Canadian Legion branch and the Eagles' Club pleaded guilty. Those of the Army and Navy Veterans and the Elks' Club pleaded not guilty, but were convicted.

The charge against the Duncan club is to be heard before the same magistrate tomorrow.

DUNCAN SCHOOL STAFF

DUNCAN, Nov. 5.—The resignation of Miss Etta M. Hood from the teaching staff of the Duncan school, was received and accepted at last night's meeting of the school board.

A letter was received from the Superintendent of Education, calling the attention of the board to the fact that the Duncan schools were apparently overstaffed under section 142 of the School Act, and asking to be advised of any circumstances which would justify this overstaffing. The board was advised at all times to obtain permission from the department before adding to the staff, otherwise trouble might arise in connection with the payment of Government grants. The board will point out that such permission has always been obtained in the past, and the overstaffing (one teacher) is accounted for by the existence of York Road school as a separate entity.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE RECEIVES HONOR

Presentation Is Made to James Carthew on Behalf of Ratepayers of Comox School District

COMOX, Nov. 5.—Not to many men is given the opportunity of receiving praise such as was accorded James Carthew when, on behalf of the ratepayers, a presentation was made to him in the old Community Hall at Comox on Monday night.

With a record of twenty-four years as secretary of the Comox School Board, during which time he has seen and been largely instrumental in encouraging the growth of school accommodation from the one-room schoolhouse to present two handsome schools, there can be but few who have given more for educational interests than Mr. Carthew, chairman of the Comox Board of Trustees.

Referring to the advantages that the Comox school children have in the way of natural and beautiful surroundings, R. J. Finley reminded the large audience of the value of education in preparing the rising generation to equip itself for its life work. "If a man for twenty-four years guides and guards the welfare of the schools in that community, watches and encourages their growth, through good times and bad times, how is it possible to estimate the value of such a man?" asked the speaker.

PRESENTATION MADE

J. B. Holmes, a pioneer resident of Comox, in humorous vein, kept the gathering amused with anecdotes of earlier days in Comox, and at the climax of his appreciative remarks, presented to Mr. Carthew, on behalf of the ratepayers of Comox, a picture of the two school buildings with the recipient's photograph in the centre.

Mr. Carthew, replying, sincerely appreciated the attendance of such a large audience and was particularly glad to see Dr. McNaughton, M.P.P., from Cumberland, and members of the Courtenay School Board present.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Dr. McNaughton was asked for a few words and said that it was not often in the life of a community that such a mark of appreciation was expressed as was apparent on this occasion. It was usually tribute to Mr. Carthew, considering that one of the previous speakers had accused him of doubling the taxes in Comox. This was a pleasant surprise, as it was usually the Government that was accused of such things. He paid a compliment to Mr. Carthew's work as a builder and architect.

Other speakers included Mr. Staghall, present secretary of the Comox board; R. U. Hurford, chairman of the Courtenay board; Mr. McKinnon, chairman of the Cumberland board; Mrs. Carthew, secretary of the Tsalim Consolidated board, and others.

ALBERNI COUNCIL TO SUBMIT THREE BY-LAWS

Construction of New School Building, Community Hall and Other Public Works Is Planned

ALBERNI, Nov. 5.—Alberni ratepayers will be asked to ratify by-laws for amounts totaling $30,000, it was decided at yesterday's meeting of the city council, providing satisfactory arrangements with regard to government grants and other matters can be made. Of the total amount, $20,000 will be for civic expenditure.

The first of the by-laws will be for approximately $20,000, of which the Government is expected to contribute over half to build a new school. Construction of this building would automatically solve the problem of building a new City Hall, temporarily at least, since the old school could be used as a city hall.

The second by-law will be for about $10,000 and will be in the nature of an investment, since it is for the purpose of building a community hall for Alberni. It has been estimated by the proponents of the scheme, that in addition to providing employment, the hall will provide a financial asset and provide city with profit in years to come. Alberni will be further secured by the sum of $2,000 already raised by the Alberni Athletic Association, sponsors of the proposed hall.

The third by-law is purely formal and is to raise funds to repay the Government for expenditures on the new district high school.

The council decided to send the Provincial Government a cheque for $2,000 on account of the high school, and to send the balance as soon as possible.

No answer has yet been received from the Government in reply to the council's formal request for definite unemployment relief funds.

The remainder of the meeting was largely devoted to discussion of public works such as repairs to bridges and streets and cleaning up the city "dump." The report of the finance committee showed the city's monetary affairs in good shape.

Governor Roosevelt Experiences Double Triumph in Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Victory at the polls was not the only triumph Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was enjoying today. He was the press pool, made up of more than twenty newspapermen who accompanied him on his campaign, the winner to what his plurality would be.

His guess was the highest of them all. It was 437,000. "And the prize," he said today, with a broad grin, "is a new suit of clothes from London."

INDOOR BOWLING

NANAIMO, Nov. 5.—On the local bowling alleys last evening, in the City League, the Eagles took two out of three games from the Woods, with Dr. Margeson, playing for Eagles, with a high score of 223, and B. Victor, for the Woods, high average with 170.

In the Commercial League the Bankers took three games from the Billiard Hall, with B. Bennett, playing for Billiards, with high score of 203, and J. McCannish for the Bankers, high average with 211.

In the Mixed League, the Koko Kola Kids took two out of three games from the Good Eats, with N. Nicholson, playing for the Koko Kola Kids, with high score of 184 and high average of 165 for ladies.

SIDNEY PICNIC PARTY IS LOST AT SEA IN FOG

Dense Mist Rapidly Thickens
While Motor Boat on Way
Home—No Compass

NIGHT IS SPENT ON UNINHABITED ISLAND

SIDNEY, Nov. 5.—Miss Margaret Payne, of All Bay; Misses Gertrude and Coline Cochrane, of Roberts Point, and Misses Marion and Alden Cochrane, of Sidney; Frank Lamert, of Portland Island, and Mr. G. A. Cochrane, of Sidney, left Sidney on Sunday noon in a motor boat, with a small dinghy attached, for an afternoon's outing on Portland Island. After reaching their destination, having lunch and taking a walk on the island, it was noticed that the fog was becoming very heavy at about 3:30 p.m. Hurried preparations were made for a start for Sidney, as the visibility was rapidly becoming worse. After leaving Portland Island, a course was taken for Coal Island, and progress was apparently good until a local freighter swung across the motor boat's bow, forcing her off her course, which began their troubles as there was no compass aboard.

HOPELESSLY LOST

Passing what was afterwards ascertained to be Pym Island, a course was again set for Canoe Pass, and after an hour's cruising the same boat was again encountered. This time it was hailed, and the freighter having now picked up a course which they megaphoned, was for James Island, the freighter suggested that the motorboat should follow it by the whistle. In a short time, however, the freighter had left the small boat behind. After a further hour's cruising, the motor boat was hopelessly lost, and it was decided to shut off the engine and let the boat drift, on the off chance of striking land and to save fuel for emergencies.

The fog was like a woolly blanket, and the picnickers spent a very unpleasant two hours, as whistles from various ships were sounding in all directions, indicating that their tiny boat was in the main course of traffic.

ROBINSON CRUSOE

At about 9 o'clock trees and land were sighted by Miss Cochrane, much to the relief of the whole party, who by this time were beginning to suffer from exposure. As the land was very rocky, the motor boat had to be towed in by the dinghy, and as soon as they landed a fire was started on the beach to dry out their sodden clothes.

After a search of the island, a small house was discovered which proved to be unoccupied, except by some live birds and the skull of a sheep, which did not help to soothe the nerves of the party. Finally a roll of tar paper was discovered, which was immediately commandeered to serve as a sheet and blankets for the community bed which was placed by the fire, as that was considered more comfortable than the house. The fire by this time had been made up to huge proportions, and the party, hungry, but in good spirits after getting thawed out, turned in under the tar paper to spend a November night in the open.

TIED BUT HAPPY

Next morning, the fog, though still very heavy, showed signs of lifting, but the motor boat had risen with the tide and been left high and dry until the noon tide. In the meantime, Hill Island was observed through a break in the fog and three of the party left in the dinghy in search of food and water. It was then discovered by the whistle of the Sidney Mills, and the position of Hill Island, that the party had spent the night on Donville Island. As soon as the tide rose sufficiently to enable the motor boat to be floated off, the party left, tired out, but still in good spirits, and managed to get back to their respective homes. Three boats had been chartered to search for them during their absence and had returned without news, which naturally caused much anxiety, so the voyagers were greeted by their families with great relief.

The old hiding place isn't dependable any more, wives are warned. A Los Angeles man, turning the leaves of a Bible, found a five dollar bill.

Amateur Dukes Will Open Annual Parley At Vancouver Today

Momentous Session Facing Athletic Officials—Question of Pros and Amateurs Intermingling Expected to Be Warm Subject of Debate

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—Athletic officials from all sections of Canada will gather in Vancouver tomorrow morning when the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada opens its annual meeting at the Hotel Vancouver. With such matters as the advisability of allowing pros in one sport to mingle with amateurs in another, the gathering promises to be one of the most momentous in the history of the union.

Secretary John Leslie, of Edmonton, and President T. E. London, of Toronto, will arrive in the city tomorrow morning, and the first session of the body will get under way at 10 o'clock.

In the afternoon the gathering will get down to the more serious business at hand, and the minutes of the last meeting, and reports of the president, secretary and treasurer will be heard. Reports will also be read from the various allied bodies of the union before the actual new business on hand will be attended to.

The meetings will continue till Saturday night.

supported by his regular wings, the reliable Perk Galbraith and coo-headed Harry Oliver. When this trio offends the opposition, Ross will swing his "dynamite trio," Conney Weiland, the league's leading scorer, "Dutch" Gainer and "Dit" Clapper, into action to start the scoring.

The aggressive Eddie Shore, Captain Lionel Hitchman, one of the game's greatest defence players, and the versatile George Owen will assist Gossie "Tiny" Thompson, the league's best goaltender last season, to make enemy scores few and far between.

Ross has but a few more days to study his players for the Bruins' squad must be cut to sixteen men as soon as they open here against the New York Americans on November 16. At present eleven youngsters are being tested and but six of them can be retained.

It is likely Ross' eye will spare such experienced candidates as Art Chapman, the Canadian-American circuit's outstanding centre last year, Bobby Taylor, who was with the Bruins before he made a name for himself with the Philadelphia Canadian-American League club; Billy Hutton, who returned to Boston when Harry Connor was turned back to Ottawa Senators, and Myles Lane, former Dartmouth football hockey star, who has been a Bruin for the past two seasons.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Great Vine of Hampton Court Palace, England, is 162 years old, 150 feet high and 80 feet wide. Originally, it was built entirely of wood, with hewn stone buttresses supporting the 150-foot arches, which are of lattice-work construction. Not a single nail was used in this construction, all the woodwork being held together with wooden pegs, strips of cowhide and glue. Incidentally, the acoustics are so perfect in this great building that a person standing in the extreme rear of the building can hear a pin dropped on the speaker's table.

Dave Lewis to Referee Tonight's Boxing Show

Local Boy to Be Third Man in Ring at All-Victoria Card at Variety Theatre—Dual Main Event Features Programme—Start at 8:30

Dave Lewis, one of Victoria's former ring stars, will referee tonight's all-Victoria boxing show to be staged at the Variety Theatre by Promoter Joe Bayley. Lewis was selected as third man in the ring last night, and the choice was a popular one with all the boys. The first bout will get away at 8:30 o'clock, and a large crowd is expected to watch the local ring product in action.

The complete cards follow:
Bout 1—Bastille Royal vs. Bout 2—Max Bloomfield vs. Dave Barr; four rounds, at 112 pounds.
Bout 3—Danny Pastore vs. Wilfred Shoults; four rounds, at 135 pounds.
Bout 4—Tommy Drysdale vs. Tim Keist; six rounds, at 135 pounds.

Tim Keist, six rounds, at 135 pounds.
Bout 5—Wing Hay vs. Frankie Neel; six rounds, at 124 pounds.
The card should produce plenty of action. A regular slugging bee is assured when Wing Hay and Frankie Neel step into the ring for their bout in one of the dual main events. Neel gained a decision in the first meeting about a month ago, but Hay reversed the call two weeks ago, and each is anxious to get the nod tonight. The winner has been promised a main event in one of Bayley's later cards.

Tim Keist and Tommy Drysdale will mix in the other main event. These boys are noted for their willingness to mix, and action is promised from going to going. A battle royal and two other prelims have been arranged.

Gibbons' platform was "Clean out the crooks," while Mueller retorted that "They are already cleaned out."

GENE TUNNEY APPEARS IN DRAMA ROLE

Former Heavyweight Champion Tells Life History and Rise to Fame

SAYS TEX RICKARD ARRANGED TITLE GO

Testimony in Mara's $500,000 Suit to Be Continued Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A drama of the prize ring, the tale of a youngster who rose through the World War from a $5 a week office boy to heavyweight champion and $10,000 purses, played to a packed house in Supreme Court today, with Gene Tunney in the title role and twelve jurors hanging on his words.

The retired king of the fisticuffs, Shakespearean scholar, who quit the game to wed an heiress of more millions, pulled back the curtain in the scenes of his defence of the $500,000 suit brought by Tim Mara, Broadway bookmaker, for alleged breach of contract.

Tunney was so voluble, so intent on missing no details in painting the picture of his career and retelling his own version of the events of his life, that Justice Justice Peter A. Hatting took under advisement a motion to throw out much of his testimony.

LETS GENE RAMBLE ON
But he let Gene ramble on, telling his tale in his own words. At the start of the session, despite the pleas of attorneys that his demands were "sure fire" under the law, Justice Hatting denied Tunney's motion for dismissal of the suit. On Monday Justice Hatting dismissed for lack of evidence the case against Billy Gibson, formerly Gene's manager and joint defendant, and Tunney's lawyers insisted that this left no case against their client, inasmuch as one could not be liable unless the other was.

MEETS TEX RICKARD
Tunney testified that in July, 1925, he met Rickard in the apartment of his friend, Jimmy Eagleton, in Greenwich Village, and that the following conversation took place:
Rickard: "Jack Dempsey will fight for one but me. He had one experience fighting for some body else and he didn't get his money. Gene, I can make you a champion. Then you got me."
Tunney: "You mean you want me to fight Jack Dempsey?"
Rickard: "Yes."
Tunney: "Then you got me."
"We then shook hands," Tunney testified, "and the agreement was made."

Tunney will continue his testimony tomorrow.

Yesterday's Results
Navy 4, Saanich United 3.
Garrison 2, Hudson's Bay 2.

With Bruce Robinson, clever centre-forward, performing the "hat trick" in as spectacular a style as has ever been seen on a local soccer field, Navy maintained their unbeaten record in the Wednesday Football League, yesterday afternoon, at the Royal Athletic Park, at the expense of Saanich United, by a 4-3 score, after a hard-fought battle, which showed both elevens at their best. Out at Beacon Hill, Garrison and Hudson's Bay battled to a two-all draw after one of the most exciting finishes in the history of the midweek loop.

The sailors, who have been coasting along in a blaze of glory since the curtain went up, found the youthful subterfuges in a fighting mood, and the victors' early lead was the only thing that saved them from defeat. During the last twenty minutes, Saanich fought like wildcats, and had their opponents on the defensive fighting for their lives. However, in the first half, the Navy had control of the situation, and it was during the early stages that Robinson got home three rapid goals to put the game in the cooler.

SAALERS PRESS
From the kick-off, the sailors pressed hard, and the battle was only ten minutes old when Robinson worked his way in close and beat Restall. Not long afterwards the same player registered his second, and on a fine forward combination attack, which Robinson put the finishing touch to, ten minutes after the interval, Robinson accepted Edwards' cross from right wing and crashed it against the rigging with bulletlike rapidity for his third goal.

With Saanich on the attack as half-time was near, Bobby Burns drove a long shot at Porteous, Navy's goalie, from outside the penalty area. Porteous caught the leather but turned around in his goal. Referee Johnson looked and pointed to centre. Navy players protested the decision, but after consulting both linesmen, Johnson stuck by his verdict.

After the interval, Saanich forced the play, and in the Navy goal, had several warm sessions, which he handled nicely. Burns made things interesting by getting his second tally following a long centre from the wing. Just previous to this play, Davidson missed a penalty shot awarded against the sailors. The tars' next goal was the result of a misunderstanding between Cann, fullback, and Restall. Cann, in an attempt to save the situation, passed the ball past Porteous with lightning speed, but the latter, although they came mighty close at times, Johnson refereed and the teams followed.

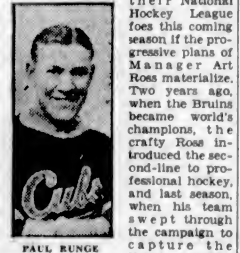

Just before time, Davidson took a perfect centre from Brown and banged the ball past Porteous with lightning speed, but the latter, although they came mighty close at times, Johnson refereed and the teams followed.

BATTLE TO DRAW
One of the greatest finishes ever witnessed in a midweek soccer fixture was put on at Beacon Hill when Hudson's Bay eked out a draw against the aggressive Garrison eleven, two-all. Although the Garrison held the whip hand throughout, it was the Bays who staged a dazzling finish that eliminated a game check full of thrills from start to finish. A heavy crowd lined the field and nobody left until the final whistle had been sounded.

Garrison had a one-goal lead until about ten minutes before time. Then the Bays equalized, but right after the face-off the Tommies again went out in front and looked like the winners. Then with only about a second left, and the departmentals staging a furious finish, Bays again netted the leather to gain an even break with the Work Point boys.

Play favored the Garrison, but the Bays proved to be a game bunch of footballers who never gave an inch of ground without a fight to earn a draw. In the first half the Bays had an edge, but poor marksmanship by their front line of attack kept some glaring chances to score. Tommies dominated the play in the second session and Percy Shrimpton, in goal for the Bays, had a Trojan's task in keeping his net clear.

SPILERS OPENS SCORE
The game was only about ten minutes old when Sandy Spiler put the Garrison in front after a fine effort. Kicking down the slope Bays pressed hard for several minutes and Fish missed two glaring chances to score by skying the ball over the goal. Then Armstrong had another good opening, but he also

FORMIDABLE SQUAD LINED UP BY BOSTON
BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The Boston Bruins will have three equally powerful forward lines attacking their National Hockey League foe this coming season if the progressive plans of Manager Art Ross materialize.

Two years ago, when the Bruins became world's champions, the crafty Ross introduced the second-line to professional hockey, and last season, when his team swept through the campaign to the United States section title, Ross went his rival managers one better by adopting the third-line idea.

It was the failure of this now-scattered third trio to click at the vital moments that forced the Bruins to give up the Stanley Cup to Montreal Canadiens in the final play-offs last Spring.

The Bruins have all three of last year's players under contract, Bill Carson and Mickey MacKay, relief centres, and Harry Connor, winger, have been dropped and Ross now has an impressive collection of ambitious youngsters battling for the vacancies.

Marty Barry will again be the first-string centre and he will be

MCKECHNIE CUP GATE RECEIPTS ARE DISCUSSED

Local Rugby Union Will Ask for Pooling of Moneys Obtained at Fixtures

VICTORIA WANTS MONEY DIVIDED
That Victoria should get a greater percentage of the gate receipts of the McKechnie Cup Rugby series, played every year between local and mainland senior "Reg" fifties, was emphasized at yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union by President V. L. Denton.

In explaining the situation as it now stands, Denton stated that last year Victoria journeyed to the Mainland and received a comparatively small sum from the gate after all expenses had been paid. Then when Vancouver came to Victoria they received about three times as much as the locals did when playing across the water.

The local president further stated that the only fair way to Victoria would be to pool the gate receipts of all the McKechnie Cup fixtures and divide them pro rata at the end of the season, with Vancouver receiving the larger portion, Victoria next and the Under-19s of British Columbia the smallest amount.

Bob Travis stated that although Victoria never lost anything on the fixtures last year, they never gained and he thought something should be done to remedy the situation.

The meeting decided to ask the local head to communicate with the British Columbia Rugby Union and ask that the receipts be pooled and divided as explained.

PIMLICO FUTURITY WON BY EQUIPOISE

Late H. P. Whitney's Star Two-Year-Old Captures $40,000 Stakes by Half a Length
BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Equipoise carried the colors of the late Harry Payne Whitney to victory in the Pimlico Futurity, the rest of an old classic, today. Twenty Grand was second and Mate third.

Equipoise won from seven of the best two-year-olds in America, covering the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:43.3-5 on a muddy track. Equipoise paid $3.90 on a $2 mule ticket and was admirably ridden by Sonny Workman. The race was worth $40,000 added.

The Whitney colt finished a half-length ahead of Mrs. Payne Whitney's A. C. Bostwick's Mate was only a neck behind in third place, with Aegis, Olgistic, Bear Hunter, Tambour and Backgammon trailing in that order.

The victory entitled Equipoise to a fair share of two-year-old honors, although Jamestown, one of the leading juveniles, was not entered. The race marked the successful debut of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney as successor to his father as proprietor of the famous Whitney stable.

MIKE GIBBONS LOSES BATTLE OF BALLOTS

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—Mike Gibbons, who used to trim his opponents with his fists when he was a ranking middleweight, took it on the chin in a battle of ballots Tuesday. His campaign for sheriff of Ramsey County, which includes St. Paul, against the incumbent, George H. Mueller, resulted in a technical knockout for the one-time "Phantom," with Mueller gaining a substantial victory.

Gibbons' platform was "Clean out the crooks," while Mueller retorted that "They are already cleaned out."

Brydson is reported to have signed a contract with the Shamrocks.

The Brydson case recalls that of Herbie Lewis, now a member of Detroit, N.H.L. team. Lewis once jumped his contract with Duluth, an outlaw team, to go Montreal Maroons. Duluth promptly got out an injunction, which was upheld and Lewis was soon back in Duluth.

COLLEGE WILL BE OUT AFTER THIRD VICTORY

Craigdarroch Fifteen to Field Strong Club Against Scottish Saturday
J. B. A. A. TO MEET OAK BAY WANDERERS
The strong line-plunging fifteen upholding the blue and gold colors of Victoria College will be out after their third straight victory in the race for the first half honors of the Intermediate Rugby League when they take on the Canadian Scottish squad Saturday. The game will, in all probability, be played at the Oak Bay Park. Oak Bay Wanderers and J.B.A.A. will clash in the second scheduled game at the Victoria High School grounds.

The Craigdarroch ruggers opened the season in a somewhat shaky manner and only after a crucial battle managed to down the hard-fighting Gaummen in a game that was decided in the dying moments. Last week, Skipper Bill Boorman made his hazy squad step on the accelerator, then threw them into high gear and, as a result, ran roughshod over the Wanderers by a 27-0 score. In their one-sided victory the Collegians showed old time form, and today they look like they will retain their city laurels for the third consecutive year.

A win against the soldiers, who have added plenty of strength for the battle, will place the Collegians in a fine position to coast home to the first half championship. Taking no chances with the Scottish, the city monarchs will field their strongest possible line-up and will take the field confident of victory.

Rex Askey and his formidable J.B.A.A. aggregation will have their chances to show their field hands fall when they take the field against the Oak Bay lads. Wanderers showed a reversal of form a week ago and appeared disorganized against College.

COLLEGE ASKED TO QUIT INTERMEDIATES

Collegians Said to Be Too Powerful for Other Second Groups

Oak Bay Wanderers Threaten to put Seniors Back Into Intermediate League if Change Is Not Made—Coach Says Team Will Not Change

Discord over Victoria College's apparent superiority in the intermediate Rugby League was evidenced at last night's lengthy meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union, when Oak Bay Wanderers threatened to replace their intermediate team with their seniors unless something was done to curtail the winning streak of the Collegians. In an open discussion on the intermediate situation as it exists today, motions and amendments were flung at the chairman by those present, suggesting several ways to smooth out the situation. It was finally decided:

"That Victoria College be asked to play in the senior league and that they be allowed to play ex-students and outsiders on the team."

"That Victoria College be restricted to bona fide students only."

WANDERERS UP IN ARMS

D. Morten, coach of the Oak Bay Wanderers, opened the intermediate Rugby question by stating that his team would withdraw from the league and that he would replace it with his senior squad, in order that his fifteen would have a fair chance against the strong College fifteen. Horace Good then placed a motion before the meeting to the effect that the Craigdarroch team should be asked to enter the senior company. H. J. Ketchan moved that College be restricted to bona fide students only. Fraser Lister, coach of the Collegians, stated that he knew positively that the team would not enter the senior company. The matter will come up again at the next meeting.

Five C's to Withdraw From Senior City Football League

At a meeting of the Five C's Football Club last night at the Y.M.C.A., the team decided to disband for the season and withdraw from the senior city circuit. C's have had a tough passage so far this season, and those present deemed the move an advisable one in the interests of soccer. Efforts will be made to secure another team next season.

The teams: Sons of Canada—Nicol (7), Blair (7), Reynolds, Sutton, John Taylor (1) and Jack Taylor (1). West Road—Clarence Sluggert (10), Andrews (2), Claude (2), Butler (1), M. Lannon (3) and J. Lannon.

ENGINEER RETURNS HOME FROM BELGIUM

General Hughes, of Canadian Battlefields Commission, Here on Short Vacation

Brigadier-General H. T. Hughes chief engineer of the Canadian Battlefields Memorial Commission, has just returned to the city from headquarters in Belgium. After spending a few weeks at his home on Sanich Peninsula, General Hughes plans to return to Belgium. Speaking of the memorial at Vimy Ridge, the general stated that the structure was one of imposing proportions and complex design, and its erection has presented a problem of great difficulty. The contract for this memorial is held by H. T. Jenkins & Son, Limited, Torquay, England.

The exact location of the Vimy Ridge memorial is at Hill 145, opposite a point linked with the name of Canada.

Memorials at St. Julien in Belgium, and at Passendale, have been completed, according to General Hughes. In the neighborhood of $1,500,000 is being spent on the eight memorials being erected by Canada.

A serious-looking man was trying hard to listen to a speaker's eloquence, but the squalling of an infant in the row of seats directly ahead gave him little opportunity. Annoyance gave way to irritation, and irritation in turn was superseded by resolve. He leaned forward, touched the mother on the shoulder, and in a dispassionate tone asked, "Has your baby been christened yet?" "No, sir. Why do you ask?" "Merely because I was about to suggest that if he had not been christened you might name him 'Good Idea.'" "And why 'Good Idea'?" asked the woman. "Because," the man struggled hard to suppress his feelings—"It ought to be carried out!"

BIRTHDAY IS COMMEMORATED

Foresters Celebrate Fifty-Eighth Year of Organization With Banquet

MORE THAN 400 ATTEND

With over 400 members of the various courts of the Ancient Order of Foresters in attendance, the fifty-eighth birthday of the organization was commemorated at the A.O.F. hall, Commercial Street, last night, in the form of a banquet.

Arthur Manson, Past District Chief Ranger, occupied the chair and performed the duties of toastmaster.

The "silent tribute" to those members of the organization who have departed, followed the singing of "O Canada," and then the guests were seated for dinner. Following the dinner, the toast to "The King" was proposed by the chairman and signally honored.

A former executive of the city and the present chief magistrate, respectively proposed and replied to the toast of the "City of Victoria." Ex-Alderman W. F. Fullerton, in proposing the toast, told of his being a city father some twenty years ago. He later paid a tribute to the present mayor and members of the council, and concluded his remarks by telling those present that Victoria was a great city and one with the least unemployment in Canada today.

MAYOR'S REPLY

In responding, Mayor Ansonb' told of the pleasure it gave him to be the first to respond to the toast to the greatest city in Canada, "Victoria, at this time, despite the financial depression, is in relatively good shape financially," continued His Honor. He emphasized that Victoria would never be a leading industrial centre, and that her best industry was in tourism. In concluding, Mayor Ansonb' wished the members of the A.O.F. many long years of happiness and many more to follow. The singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and three remarks and a tiger, greeted the mayor at the conclusion of his address.

In proposing the toast to the "Ancient Order of Foresters," Alderman James Adams told of the formation of Court Vancouver No. 5755 in 1872, it being the first court established on the Pacific Coast. He touched briefly on the membership of the court, and spoke of the organization of the Maple Leaf Court in Victoria, the first women's court in Canada.

J. J. Wilson, Past Chief Ranger, Court Vancouver, and a Forester for fifty-seven years, replied to the toast. The veteran member referred to the inception of the Ancient Order of Foresters here, told of applying to the High Court in London, England, for permission to organize the branch, and its final organization after many meetings, here in 1872. He concluded by telling his listeners that he joined the Ancient Order of Foresters in 1873 and was at this time eighty years old.

F. W. Jenkins, Past District Chief Ranger, proposed the toast "Kindred Societies," and E. Simpson, District Deputy of the Sons of England, replied.

The toast "A.O.F. Joint Social Committee," was proposed by Mrs. E. Nunn, District Treasurer, Vancouver Island district, and replied to by Mrs. M. Townsend, District Deputy of Columbia district.

The chairman welcomed those present, thanked the many artists, and also the members of the social committee for their co-operation in making the event such a success.

During the evening vocal and instrumental numbers were presented on a programme of some length and variety, while an exhibition of dancing by Miss Mona Jewell and pupils was well received.

Artists contributing included: J. Torrance, H. H. Holmes, Mrs. J. Shaw, Craven, T. Crabb, Mossop, Stafford, Townsend, Rhodes, Mrs. B. E. Lefevre, Mrs. L. Goss, John Jim, Miss Easter Pim and Miss Nellie Payne.

Dan Molloy, in many respects a good soldier, had not the virtue of tidiness. Appearing on parade one morning with his boots unlaced, the sergeant at once dropped on him. "Private Molloy, fall out!" he roared. "Phwat d'ye mane by comin' in here wid yur boots in a mess like thot?" "Arrah, now, sergeant, be aisy!" replied the impertinent Dan. "Sure, ye never saw a good soldier shovin' a clane pair o' heels."

There are Canadian plays from the Hart House Theatre: Charles Raine Kennedy's "Servant in the House" and "The Winter Feast," Charles Mair's "The Tenth Muse," Charles Mair's book, "Sport and Life" in British Columbia, Helen E. Williams' "Spinning Wheels and Homepun" are decidedly Canadian in background and give an interesting light on the country. Stefansson's "Adventures of Wrangell Island" is one of the outstanding works in the travel section. Among the fiction there is Mazo de la Roche's "Explorers of the Dawn," "Jaina," "White Oaks of Jaina" and "Delight," Martha C. Jensen's "The Young May Moon" and "Wild Geese" and Arthur Stringer's "Lonely O'Malley" and Morley Callaghan's "It's Never Over" are being read.

Of Indian writers, there is Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance's book, and "Sign Talk" by Ernest Thompson Seton, is an interesting volume. Marius Barbeau has written "Indian Days in the Canadian Rockies," which is well worth reading.

These are but some of the more outstanding Canadian books which will be featured this week at the library.

That Body of Ours

By James W. Barton, M.D.
RAISING YOUR TEMPERATURE
BY RADIO WAVES

As you know when a patient has a high temperature, the first thing that is thought of is some medicine or drug to reduce the temperature. And yet physicians are now beginning to think of a high temperature as just a sign that something is wrong inside the body. The high temperature itself is not the thing that is wrong.

Something is wrong and that something is what is causing the body to raise its temperature in order to fight off the thing that is wrong.

And yet it is only about twenty years ago that the idea that the increased temperature of the body was really a help to the body in time of illness was given to the world by Dr. W. G. MacCallum. His belief was that the increased temperature developed substances in the body that were able to fight or combat the organisms that were causing the trouble.

I have spoken before about the fact that a number of cases of paralysis recovered after undergoing an attack of malaria. That is not physicians thinking, and in numerous institutions in different parts of the world, many of these cases were artificially infected with malaria. In some institutions as many as twenty-five per cent of those infected recovered from paralysis. The malaria itself was then cured by quinine.

Later it was felt that it was not the malaria itself that had caused the cure, but the high temperature that the body was subjected to by the "chills and fever" of the malaria.

Later organisms other than those causing the malaria were tried and these were likewise successful.

However it is certainly gratifying to know that this "fever" can now be created in the body by placing persons "in the field of radio waves."

With these short radio waves it is possible to cause a fever in a man rapidly without great discomfort, and to a degree high enough to have the same value as that caused by malaria or other infection. There is an increase in the rate of the heart beat and in the breathing just as in fever from an illness.

Now this is still in the experimental stage but you can readily see that when it is possible to actually "control" the degree to which the physician wants to have the temperature rise, the mechanism is nearly ready for use by the family physician.

GIVING JOINT RECITAL

In aid of the Third Victoria St. Barnabas Troop and Pack, Boy Scouts, a joint recital will be given at the Empress Hotel on Friday, December 5, by the Comtesse de Dunsmuir and Mrs. Sydney M. Oliver. ## DEPORTATIONS OF EPILEPTICS INVESTIGATED

Finds Women Were Returned to England at Request of Ontario

SAYS LEGAL RIGHTS WERE NOT EXCEEDED

HAMILTON, Nov. 5.—C. W. Bell, M.P. for West Hamilton, reported to Mayor Peebles, Tuesday, on his inquiries into the recent deportation of epileptic English women from a provincial institution at Woodstock. Mr. Bell stated that he was found Mrs. Ainsworth's people in Hamilton had been notified of her impending deportation, but in the case of Miss Alice Barton, of Hinton, no such notice had been sent.

Mrs. Ainsworth and Miss Barton are now in institutions in Lancashire, England. The proposed deportation of Miss Ellen Naylor, of London, was stopped last week and the girl returned to Woodstock Hospital from Montreal. Mrs. Novles, of Toronto, a fourth case, is now in a Bristol, Eng., poor law institution.

All the women deported suffered from epilepsy, but resided in Canada for many years.

ONTARIO'S REQUEST

There was no co-operation between the Federal and the provincial departments, Mr. Bell found, and no action had been taken by either in that direction. Mr. Bell's report said the deportations were both undertaken at the instance of the Provincial Government of Ontario.

"So far as the legal right of deportation goes, it does not appear to have been exceeded, as the records show in both cases that the persons dealt with were unfortunately afflicted from childhood," Mr. Bell's report states.

FAVORS CHANGE IN LAW

Mr. Bell's statement continued: "I think it must be universally felt that no matter what the conditions are, persons who are merely unfortunate and not in difficulty by any conscious act, every case has, should not be deported from this country after any lengthy residence. It seems to me especially indefensible when it involves tearing apart families. The only way to prevent this in future is to enact new legislation and I propose to do all in my power to accomplish that end at the earliest possible moment."

TO INVESTIGATE CASES

BLIND RIVER, Ont., Nov. 5.—Further deportation to their native lands of patients confined to mental institutions in the province, will not be authorized until every case has been fully considered on its merits and passed upon following a thorough examination by a competent physician.

This policy will be followed by the Ontario Government in dealing with such cases in future, according to Hon. J. M. Robb, Provincial Minister of Health, in discussing tonight the cases of three women recently to come under the deportation order. Dr. Robb was honor guest at a banquet here.

BEEHIVES MUST BE REGISTERED

Imported Pests Affecting B.C. Apiaries to Be Subject of Drive

MANY ARE AT FAULT

There are stings in the law as well as in apiaries, and this fact will be drawn to the attention of unregistered beekeepers of the province unless action is taken immediately to register their hives. It was intimated yesterday by the Department of Agriculture.

Outbreaks of foul brood, believed to have crossed the line from the United States, has drawn the attention of the authorities to some 300 apiarists who have neglected to register in the eighteen months that have elapsed since the passage of amendments to the Apiaries Act, in March, 1929.

These regulations provide that all growers or occupiers of land used for apiaries must register their hives, an act that can be accomplished by the filling out of a printed form supplied by the Department of Agriculture, or through any of its district offices. This registration is without cost or fee of any kind. Failure to register leaves the apiarist open to prosecution, and a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

Much educational work in drawing the attention of beekeepers to the need of registration was done to guard against any spread of foul brood or other afflictions to which bees are subject, by a system of regular inspections. The department has now learned that upwards of 300 apiarists have so far neglected to comply with this requirement. Unless they do so, action will be necessary to bring about compliance with regulations passed in the protection of the industry in British Columbia.

Beekeepers in the Lower Fraser Valley, and in some isolated instances on Vancouver Island, are said to have failed to effect the necessary registrations. Forms may be had on application to the department, or to any district agriculturalist. Involuntary neglect to register can be remedied now, but sterner measures will be instituted if failure to register is continued.

PICTURE AT CAPITOL IS BIG ATTRACTION

There is just one definition of "The Bad Man," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre: It is "grand entertainment." The story deals with a group at an Arizona ranch. A young man and his crippled uncle are about to lose their ranch to the local money lender because bandits have driven away their cattle. As visitors they have a girl and her husband, a wealthy Wall Street speculator. It turns out that the hero, James Rennie, was in love with the girl, Dorothy Revier, before she married her husband, suave, cold, and a heavy drinker. It is then that "The Bad Man"

Ontario's New Home on the Strand

THE above picture was taken at the opening ceremonies of the new Ontario Building in the Strand at London. The group comprises, sitting in front, left to right, Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain; Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, British Secretary of State for the Dominions; Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Prime Minister of Ontario, who opened the building, and Mr. Noxon, Ontario's representative in the British capital. Behind, left to right, are Miss M. to the effect that he will be starred in his next picture.

Montgomery, a juvenile of the New York stage, made his film debut about a year ago in "So This Is College." He followed this by playing opposite Joan Crawford in "Untamed," then serving in a similar capacity with Norma Shearer in "Their Own Desire." His success sent him up the ladder swiftly, his most recent roles being in "Sins of the Children," "Our Blushing Brides" and "The Big House."

this time the young woman who marries him has no intention of being cast off as the others have been with substantial alimonies, although she has taken care to see that she is well provided for. But she has fallen in love with this big changeable husband of hers and plots how to keep him. How that plot works out the play will tell.

ADVOCATES EXTENSION

Extension of the West Coast Road northwards to Bamfield was advocated by C. L. Harrison in the interesting illustrated address he gave at the November meeting of the Overseas Club at Spencer's tea-rooms.

The speaker, who specially favored the reservation of neighboring West Coast country as a national park, said that his investigations of the area had conclusively shown that the construction of the proposed road extension would be neither difficult nor very costly, the highest point to be reached being under 700 feet above sea level, and the only notable bridge building expenditure involved being in connection with the spanning of the Nitinat River, which a reputable engineer had estimated would cost not more than $12,000 or $14,000.

In support of his contentions Mr. Harrison exhibited a number of moving and fixed pictures, many of which had been taken while he was traveling on a lifeboat near the shoreline, south from Bamfield. These pictures clearly showed the scenic and other features of the country to be traversed by the suggested road extension. Among the more notable scenes were Pachina Bay, Pachina River and the Tsalist and other waterfalls. He made a strong case for the suggested extension of the West Coast Road as the initial undertaking of any Vancouver Island developmental scheme that might be proposed, and concluded his address with an appeal for the systematic preservation of island beauty spots and the island roads from relentless devastation by ruthless timber felling.

The Overseas Club meeting was well attended, and after the business part of the proceedings Mrs. P. G. Claudet sang two much-enjoyed songs, accompanied by Major Harry Watts.

"THE AVIATOR" MIXES LAUGHS WITH THRILLS

"The Aviator," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture now at the Columbia Theatre is a combination of laughs and thrills.

Edward Everett Horton plays the title role. Others are Patsy Ruth Miller, Johnny Arthur, Lee Moran, Edward Martindel and Armand Kaliz. Roy Del Ruth directed.

"The Aviator," a meek author, is forced to attempt to make after-dinner speeches about a subject of which he knows nothing—and compelled to do air stunts in rivalry with a real ace.

How fortune favors him while seeming to thrust him into the discard—how with teeth chattering with fear he makes himself appear brave—how he wins the lady who thinks him a hero—makes one of the funniest talkies ever filmed.

BEHIND-THE-SCENE STORY FASCINATES

Behind-the-scene stories of theatrical life have always captured the public's fancy, and their popularity has never been greater than at the present day. In the British International Picture, distributed by First National Pathé, "Raise the Roof," coming to the Coliseum Theatre, Saturday, this popular theme is handled from a refreshingly unusual angle—that of the trials and tribulations suffered by the "Raise the Roof" touring company, who when the picture opens, find themselves stranded on an out-of-the-way station without even the price for their ticket to the next town.

HARRY TENBROOK HAS PLAYED MANY ROLES

Harry Tenbrook, who plays a character role in "On the Level," Fox Movietone all-talking romance, featuring Victor McLaglen, has been a motion picture actor for more than twenty-two years and has run the gamut of character roles. In "On the Level," which will begin an engagement at the Playhouse Theatre today, he appears as a structural iron worker. McLaglen and William Harrigan are also iron workers in the picture and Lilyan Tashman plays the leading feminine role.

Irving Cummings directed "On the Level," from an original story by William K. Wells.

FRENCH FARCE FIRST CHOICE OF PLAYERS

The Gordon McLeod English Players, who open at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, November 10, have chosen for their first production the clever and amusing farce-comedy, "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," written by a French author, Alfred Savoir, and translated into English by Charlton Andrews. There are a lot of farces that are presented, which, although amusing at the time, are forgotten as soon as seen. This is not the case with "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the reason being that there is really a big idea behind the plot. But it is a laughter maker from beginning to end, and has all the wit and piquancy of a French play. The idea is that a rich and fickle millionaire, who has had many ventures in matrimony, is for the eighth time about to marry, but

CHAPTER XXXIII

Peter sat facing the high rail which divided the prison inmates from their visitors. There was a babble of voices around him, yet the hubbub created a privacy as real as solitude, for each of the pairs leaning forward close to the barrier from opposite sides was oblivious of all the others.

To each of them the drone of conversation that filled the room was only an indeterminate humming accompanied for the one conversation that mattered—their own.

Peter had already started from the hospital toward the San Quentin ferry when he swung Bosay sharply around and returned to the Herald office instead. He found Andrews in the dark room, developing prints.

"I believe you're going to turn out useful for once," Peter greeted him gaily. "Remember that picture you took of Mortison on the Hangtown story?"

"Sure I do. Didn't I have to take him in the coffin, because the undertaker wouldn't be persuaded to let me set him up proper? I should think I would remember. The art department gave me the dickens for the work they had in dressing it up so that we could run it. After all the work I had getting permission to take it at all! They only used it for a half column inset—can you beat that?"

"Well, it's going to come in handy now," Peter consoled him. "I wish you'd fix me up a couple of prints—one from your own plate, just as you took it, and another one the way the art department brought it to life. Can I have them in twenty minutes or so?"

"Surest thing you know! There's nothing I like better than being interrupted in the middle of a job and being asked to hunt up some plates that are close to a month old!"

"Thanks."

Andrew's tone had been anything but enthusiastic, and when Peter left him he was still moving wet prints slowly back and forth in a shallow tray of solution—but Peter knew that when he came back, the camera man, still grumbling, would hand him the pictures he had asked for.

Emerging from the dark room, Peter strolled over to Lammie's desk. The "D" edition was already out, and Lammie was engaged in nothing more exigent than the drawing of caricatures of various members of the Herald staff on a sheet of copy paper. Peter leaned over his shoulder, and under pretense of viewing the drawings, spoke in a low tone, inaudible to

"For many, many years I have seen the need for overworked wives of a half bottle of Stout at 11 a.m. with a sandwich, and one at supper—but it must be Guinness. There is a special tonic result and I prescribe it largely. The first gives vigour and the bedtime one brings sweet sleep."

have placed Callahan as one of society's congenial misfits.

"Stunk before he started," Peter inwardly commented.

Neither viciousness nor adventure, ambition nor despair, he was a criminal because it had never occurred to him to be anything else. He scraped a precarious and dangerous living, punctuated by periods in prison only a degree more dismal than the periods outside it, because he knew nothing else to do.

"Mr. Fitzgerald wants as I should help you. I don't know how I can help anybody, but Mr. Fitzgerald was good to my misadventure and what he says goes," Callahan said as he dropped into his seat.

"If you'll come clean on what I ask you, neither Mr. Fitzgerald nor I will forget it, when you come up before the prison board."

"I ain't strikin' no bargain with you," the man's voice, thin and hard, had a serious, hopeless dignity. "The prison board will give me the book, and I know it. But I owe Mr. Fitzgerald sumthin', an' if you're a friend of his, that's enough to split it."

Peter drew the ring from his pocket and held it up where Callahan could see it, cupped in his hand.

"I only want to know where you got this," he said.

"You wouldn't believe it if I told you!" Callahan's voice had the dull certainty of a man whose occupation of lying had long ceased to be an insult. "What's more, I never told a soul. I was scared to tell it, even to a fence when he asked me, and when I got that safety box, I stuck it in, not knowing what else to do with it. I'd plumb forgot it was there, until Mr. Fitzgerald showed up with it. It was the Liberty Bond I meant he should take."

Peter opened his mouth to speak, and then he closed it. It was incredible that Callahan was telling the truth when he said that he had forgotten the ring, but Peter decided to hear the rest of his story. It would then be easy enough to point out its discrepancies. Callahan hadn't the imagination to lie cleverly—but why had he begun by saying that he did not expect to be believed, and added the statement, silly on its very surface, that he had forgotten a ring, by his own showing, he had been afraid to disbelieve it. Peter's eyebrows were lifted almost to the margin of his overhanging black forehead, but if Callahan wanted to spin a fairy tale—well, there were times when men's fairy tales were more illuminating than their most literal utterances.

"I'm listening," he said in a voice which betrayed nothing of his incredulity.

"I wouldn't do this for anybody but Mr. Fitzgerald. Say, did you know he hunted around till he got my misadventure—a job—one where I can keep the kid with her? I'd go to the chair for that guy. Honest to goodness, I would! Maybe they can send me there yet, if I tell you. But I didn't creak him."

If Callahan had protested his innocence with a solemn oath, Peter's eyebrows would have continued to lift upward. But there was something which carried conviction. Besides, Fitzgerald had said that he wasn't a killer.

"I believe you," Peter said with a quiet sincerity which gave an unaccustomed sense of confidence to the man on the prison side of the barrier.

"Then I'll tell you how it was. I was hardly more than a kid—hadn't even done a job on my own yet. Maybe you've heard as how I always work in the open—no second story stuff. This is why. I was goin' along the street, along about half past one o'clock in the morning, when I happened to notice a place set 'way back from the road. There was a high hedge around it, and plenty of shrubbery for cover. A place like that was just askin' for it. I took a look at the house. One room was lighted, and the long window was open. It was a big room with a lot of furniture in it, but nobody was there.

"I'd been workin' for Saw-Tooth Mike, y' understand. Maybe you heard of him. He got his, later, when he broke into a house down the peninsula, belongin' to the amateur heavyweight champ of the Pacific Coast. He just rose up out a bed and swatted Mike one in the jaw that laid him out cold. He said he never meant to hit so hard, but he got excited and hadn't time to think. And would you believe it, that there millionaire sportsman, he fixed it so Mike's widow and kids would never come to want. I'll say he was a sportsman!"

"I remember the case," Peter said. "But what about you and this room you were telling about?"

"Well, I wanted to be as good with Mike, see? So I thought here was a chance to show my stuff. When I looked around, I seen somebody was in the room, after all, a-in't in the shadow of the table. I thought he was souse. I got his wallet with seven hundred dollars in it, without his stirrin'. Then I seen this ring, and I eased it off his finger. I was goin' after his watch next, but there was somethin' about that finger that seemed kinda funny. I'll say it was funny! You couldn't knock me over with a feather when I go' wise. No wonder I'd got the stuff in his pockets without wakin' him up. He was stiff!"

"Let me get this straight," Peter said levelly. "You walked in on this man when he was already dead, and robbed him. Is that it?"

Callahan rubbed the rough prison sleeve across his forehead.

"It makes me sweat even now to think of it," he said. "The room got to seemin' awful still and empty of a sudden, and the tickin' of a clock on the mantel was so loud an' slow, it made me prickle all over, as if I was comin' out with poison oak."

"Understand, there was just a dead man lookin' on the way it musta looked on when the guy came in that killed him. If I heard it strike, I knew I'd yell—I'd go plumb crazy."

"I hit my forehead a nasty crack on the side of the window, gettin' out, because I didn't look where I was goin'. But I didn't even notice the bump till it swelled up next day. I just ran—faster than I ever ran when the cops was after me. Maybe you've heard I ain't no killer. That's why. Seems like I never got over it, bein' just a kid and all. An' I was never no good at second story work after that. I tried it once or twice, but every time I'd get into a house in the dark, I'd think I was goin' to stumble over a stiff, and the sound of a clock tickin' would send me plumb loco."

Callahan sank back. His blue prison shirt rose and fell with his shallow, panting breaths as he lived once again the scene he had been describing.

Peter leaned over the railing, peering at Callahan's white and shaken face.

"But you've got a record reachin' back ten or twelve years. This can't have happened recently." In a story bristling with stark impossibilities, he seized on the one that came uppermost.

"No, it was more than ten years ago," Callahan answered dully. "When I got back to Mike and told him what had happened, he bawled me out proper. He told me I'd swing for that stiff's murder. I wouldn't have a chance. I'd already been in reform school, and had a record, even then. I'd broken into the house—leastwise, they'd call it breaking. Not a jury on earth would believe that the guy was already dead when I found him. If they knew I'd been there and lifted his wad and his jewelry. The money was all right, and we burned the wallet. But I never dared cash in on the ring, for fear they'd trace it to me."

"But—" Peter began, and stopped. There really was no place to begin to question a story which in no particular fitted the known facts. The room could not have been Mortison's room. There were no French windows in the lodge and no street that went by it. The dead man could not have been Mortison, for Mortison had been dead only a month. There wasn't even a mantel or a clock!

Yet Callahan had not invented that story. He had not invented it, because he couldn't invent it. He might have been willing to lie, but no one of Callahan's mental calibre could have created these touches of grisly realism—the whirring of the clock before it struck, the "funny feel" of the finger which gave Callahan his first realization that the man was not drunk but dead. He simply could not have made it up! Yet what he had told was physically impossible. The one recognizable fact was the ring. Callahan said the ring had been in his keeping for ten years—yet it had been stolen from Mortison's lodge a month ago. Peter suddenly gave up the struggle to make sense out of so wild and horrible a grotesquerie. He would yield himself to the impossible, letting it lead him where it would.

"And all this happened—where?" he asked.

"In Piedmont."

"About ten years ago, you say?"

"Eleven years ago this very month."

"Would you know the man again if you saw him?"

"I'll say I would! It was months before I got over wakin' up twichin' in the night because I'd been dreamin' about him."

"Did you ever find out who he was?"

"Sure. It was all in the papers the next day. He was a high-up swell, belongin' to one of them old Spanish families. I never noticed whether they got anybody for the job or not—I beat it down to Mexico along about then, and I never heard no more about it. But I remember his name all right. It was a mouthful. Jerome de la Montanya, it was."

A thin ray of light pierced Peter's confusion for an instant, and was gone. De la Montanya—de la M. But the similarity of initials explained nothing—it was only one more thing to be explained, where all was inexplicable. He drew the photographic prints from their paper wrappings, and held them high above the railing.

A guard strolled over to Peter's side and touched him on the shoulder.

"I'm just getting him to identify some photographs for a story I'm on," Peter explained. "You can see them in a minute."

"That's all right, Peter. I didn't recognize you for a minute. We have to be very careful, you know."

Peter turned from the guard to see Callahan cowering back in his seat, shrinking as far away from the prints as his chair would allow.

"That's—him!" he breathed in a gasping whisper. "Lord, it brings it all back as if it was yesterday."

"What would you say if I told you that this could not be the man you found dead—that it is physically impossible?" Peter leaned forward tensely, watching every flicker of expression on Callahan's face.

"I'd say you was a damn liar," Callahan said with a calm earnestness which carried the depth of his conviction. "That's him, I tell you!"

"And I tell you it can't be. Those photographs were taken a month ago. I saw the man's body myself, and the pictures were taken by my cameraman. That is the face of a man named Mortison, who was shot to death in a cabin on a ranch near Hangtown."

"No," Callahan declared flatly. "He wasn't shot. There wasn't a bullet hole in him anywhere. I frisked him, you know, before I found out he was dead."

"But I tell you it couldn't be! This man was murdered, all right, but the circumstances were nothing like those you have given me. Why I saw the bullet wounds myself. Why they've just acquitted of his murder! And this ring was stolen from the room where he was killed."

In the face of the man's grim unassailable certainty Peter found himself on the defensive. It was he who was trying to convince Callahan that what he was telling was the truth.

"I don't know whether you're crazy, or trying to kid me, or what," Callahan answered. "I don't care what you tell me. I know! I never forget a face. Ask any of the boys, and they'll tell you the same. That's why they call me Snap-Shot Callahan. I never forget a face, and it's a cinch I'd never forget that one. If he hadn't been dead when I found him, that's the way he'd look today. But dead or not, that's him. That's Jerome de la Montanya."

Why— Children need BOVRIL

Children need Bovril to fortify them against cold and illness. Bovril is the best of the beef in its most concentrated and digestible form.

The special body-building powers of Bovril are due, partly to the actual nourishment in Bovril itself, and partly to its unique power of enabling the human system to derive far greater nourishment from the ordinary diet. It assists development and increases stamina. Give the children Bovril every day for a month and note the difference.

The Body-building powers of Bovril have been proved by independent investigation to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to noon, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. and from 2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Astrological influences on this date are not of a stimulating nature, and there will be a tendency to let things drag, and the day's rightful business may be postponed.

"Tomorrow is an old deceiver and his cheat never grows stale." Health should be especially guarded.

Children born on this November 6 will be brilliantly successful as boys and girls, but, as with most precocious children, their adult achievements will fall flat in comparison.

They should be encouraged to go in for athletics, as they will always want their noses stuck in a book.

You are a very non-talking being, and although not an ungrateful one, your silence is often misunderstood. Silent appreciation is always inferior in quality to spoken appreciation. You have an inconspicuous character, and court neither popularity nor unpopularity. You belong to the vast army of clean and sane and temperate livers—the best and most dependable citizens of your country, (if not the most conspicuous). There is much stubbornness revealed in your character, and you often hang on to an idea long after you should let go of it. This trait is probably your weakest one. You hate to outwardly admit that you are ever in the wrong, although your errors may be staring you in the face.

You are morally very upright, almost a prude—the animalism in your nature is very well conquered. You are capable of very sincere, clean emotions, as expressed in your love for children and for animals. You are always sorry for the "under dog," and go to his assistance if it be possible. Men born on November 6 are fitted for agricultural pursuits, and should never attempt to lead a sedentary existence. You will make good where patience and industry are essential. You are not a promoter or a speculator, and although the fruits of your efforts may be modest, they will always be sure. You are too retiring to make friends easily, but you are very loyal to those few whom you have.

B.C. APPEAL COURT ORDERS NEW TRIAL

Damage Action Against B.C. Amusement Co. to Be Tried Again in Supreme Court

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—On the appeal of twelve-year-old Leslie Jamieson, the Court of Appeal ordered a new trial in Supreme Court of his action against the British Columbia Amusement Company, Limited.

The boy, suing by his father, Fred Thomas Jamieson, elevator contractor, claimed damages for the loss of the second finger on his right hand. While riding, on July 6, 1929, in a boat through a tunnel of the Old Mill, which was operated by defendant company at Hastings Park, the plaintiff's right hand caught, as he alleged, in a nail or silver on a wooden ledge. The finger had to be amputated.

The case was heard by Chief Justice Morrison and a jury. A verdict was returned, finding contributory negligence and awarding special damages of $102. The trial judge subsequently dismissed the action on the ground that no evidence was adduced proving that defendant had been guilty of negligence.

The appeal was heard by five judges, who all agreed that the jury's verdict was wrong, for the reason that the jury, although allowing special damages, failed to award general damages for pain and suffering, disfigurement and inconvenience, sustained by the plaintiff. The jury should have awarded the whole damages, and then apportioned them between the parties according to the degree of fault.

Noted Specialist ... in Famous Clinic ... Shows How Yeast ... Is Health Boon

DR. CARL VON NOORDEN, famous specialist of Frankfurt, Germany, has made a long study of yeast.

IN HIS SANATORIUM many patients are treated by the simple, effective and gentle yeast method.

FOR YEAST, a food, cleanses and tones up the intestinal tract, where most of our ills start.

JUST ADD YEAST to your diet (3 cakes daily before or between meals) in water, milk, or just plain.

IN THIS Famous European Sanatorium

... yeast is regularly used for Intestinal Fatigue • Read

Doctor Carl von Noorden's own statement

If you could have a five-minute talk with one of the foremost physicians of Europe about your body and your health... If you could have a heart-to-heart discussion with him regarding the treatment of your troubles...

And if you could have this talk without a cent of cost to you... would you listen? Then imagine that you are sitting in your own home talking with Professor Dr. von Noorden of Frankfurt, Germany.

The Doctor is speaking to you now:

"Yeast is used constantly in my clinic. Its results are astonishing. It increases secretion of the digestive juices, improves appetite. For over thirty years it has been used, with surprising results, to cure certain diseases of the skin.

"Yeast has an extraordinary tonic effect on the whole system."

Here is authoritative opinion... based on years of experience in the practice of medicine.

Fresh yeast, you know, is a plant, a food. Taken as a regular part of your nourishment, it moistens and softens waste matter which has accumulated in the intestinal tract.

It stimulates the natural action of the intestines, and thus helps the body to throw off undigested residue in a normal way. No longer do poisons from stagnant waste flood the body to cause bad skin, bad breath, headaches, backaches and similar common ills. The result is that your skin clears, appetite returns, color improves... your whole body feels the beneficial effect of yeast's action. This without a single dose of medicine, a single cathartic, a single violent expedient.

Why don't you try this proved way to regain new health? It's very simple. Just eat three cakes of Fleischmann's fresh Yeast regularly every day, following the directions on the label. Each cake is rich in three vitamins (B, G and D) indispensable to health. At grocers', restaurants, soda fountains, drug stores.

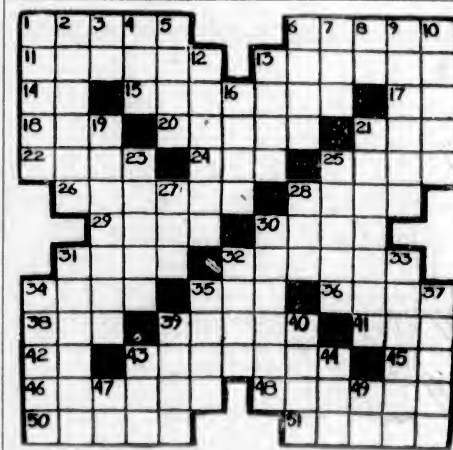

Not a "Cure-all"... Fleischmann's Yeast is a health food thousands eat

Many Outstanding Issues On New York Stock Market Break to New Low Levels

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The day after election found the stock market maintaining the general downward trend it had held for many weeks before election. Today's declines, ranging from 10 to 9 points, doubtless attracted wide attention because of the results at the polls yesterday, and because so many outstanding issues, including American Telephone, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Consolidated Gas and Pennsylvania Railroad, broke through the narrow safety zones that had separated them from new lows for the year.

Stocks opened moderately steady, ran into a flurry of selling, and then backed and filled below Monday's close, until the final hour, when pressure became more noticeable. The so-called pivotal shares were sold freely, but the activity of the shorts in this group became apparent at the close, when United States Steel, among others, was again leaning at a premium. Steel's low of the day was 14 1/4, a minimum since 1928—but it rallied slightly to close at 14 1/2, off 3 1/2, and carried the rest of the market generally up from the bottom.

American Telephone sagged to 192, finishing 3-8 above that quotation, also for a new loss of 3 1/2.

Other stocks losing about 3 points included American Can, Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Consolidated Gas and New York Central. Allied Chemical lost 7, Eastman Kodak 9 1/2 and North American 6. Public Service of New Jersey, Stone & Webster, American Water Works, American Power & Light and Case tumbled 4 to 5. General Motors, General Electric, Radio National Biscuit, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, were off about a point.

Accumulation of orders over the holiday influenced moderate activity in bonds today, but little progress was made on the upside.

GRAINS AFFECTED BY WEAK STOCK MARKET

Liquidation Outweighs Moderate Demand in Chicago—Argentina Crop is Nearing Maturing

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Weakness in the stock market was a factor today, and liquidation was heavy at times, outweighing the generally moderate demand. New lows for the season were recorded with final figures fractionally over the low point. Liverpool closed 1-4 to 1-8 lower than yesterday and 1 to 1-8 from Monday.

Larger receipts the past week have tended to restrict new buying and primary arrivals today were 1,996,000 bushels against 955,000 bushels a year ago. There was a good milling demand at relatively steady prices and sales were 58,000 bushels.

The Northwest Miller, however, reported the past week as being the weakest in the history of periods in a long time, buyers being discouraged by the weakness in wheat. Argentine cables were about a standoff, with the crop now near maturity in the north. It will soon be out of danger in that section. Canadian visible decreased 1,320,000 bushels, but the substantial upturn, appear to be lacking at the moment.

Corn made a good showing early, but the weakness in other quarters caused a lowering of prices around midday. The cash demand was good, and the basis was about steady, with sales of 55,000 bushels for shipment and 21,000 bushels to arrive. Receipts were 205 cars, estimated with primary arrivals of 938,000 bushels against 402,000 bushels a year ago. Local shipments were 225,000 bushels. Weather conditions were just about perfect. With the period of heavy receipts, local indications are for a two-sided market.

Oats sold off with other grains. Liquidation of long oats was again the main factor. Cash sales 105,000 bushels with basis quarter off to half up.

Rye—Trade moderately active with prices again giving ground along with wheat.

FRIENDLY HELP HAS MONTH OF ACTIVITY

Record Number of Applicants—
Many Donations Received
by Association

The monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association, held Tuesday morning, was well attended, eighteen members being present, including Aldermen Woodward and Adam. Mrs. Cullum presided.

Grateful appreciation was expressed at the meeting for the kindness of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, for holding a shower of clothing, and to David Spencer for delivering it to the rooms.

A letter of sympathy was sent to Mrs. Beattie, with flowers, to the memory of Commandant Beattie, Salvation Army.

The month of October was an exceptionally busy one, with the largest number of applicants for assistance in the history of the association, fifty-nine new cases being dealt with, as follows: Nineteen were assisted by groceries, meat, etc.; two given meals; one got heater; two asked for work only; two Chinese referred to Chinese Benevolent Society; two sent to Salvation Army; thirteen referred to Army and Navy Veterans; eight referred to Sanich; one from Esquimalt had clothing; and one from Langford had clothing.

ADmits CONDITIONS IN MANITOBA MENTAL HOSPITALS NOT GOOD

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—Conditions at the Brandon and Selkirk mental hospitals are far from ideal, but the province is cutting its cost according to its cloth, stated Dr. A. T. Mathers, provincial psychiatrist, who issued a statement for the Government today, following charges made here in an address by M. le Bourdais, director, Division of Education, Canadian National Committee of Mental Hygiene.

Mr. le Bourdais, in his address, declared that patients were confined in the Brandon mental hospital "under conditions unfit for animals," and that due to overcrowding "many are in cells without windows or proper ventilation."

Delays Deportation

On an order of Mr. Justice Murphy the deportation of a Chinese claiming to be Lee Moon Koo or Dang Hong has been delayed pending the appearance of the Canadian immigration officials before him on November 11 to show reason why the man should be so dealt with. It is claimed by the immigration authorities that the man is not the one he represents himself to be and that he has entered on a permit granted Lee Moon Koo who was a native of British Columbia to visit China and return. The proceedings in the case were taken by C. H. O'Halloran as a habeas corpus application.
